

VACCINE MYTHS

In South Africa, some people believe that the COVID-19 vaccine will contain a microchip that can track and control people.

This has been debunked by the South African government. There is also no evidence that backs this claim.

5G networks cause the Coronavirus through radiation transmissions

The WHO has emphasised that viruses cannot travel on radio waves/mobile networks. The virus is spreading in many countries that do not have 5G mobile networks.
