Xiamen, one of the most beautiful seaside cities in China

As a vice-provincial city in Fujian Province and one of the first four Special Economic Zones in China, Xiamen was granted by the State Council local legislative power and independent planning status. Covering a land area of 1573.16 km² and sea area of 390 km², Xiamen has a population of 3.53 million and is the ancestral home for a significant number of overseas Chinese as well as many living in Taiwan. With a perfect integration of urban landscape and the sea view, Xiamen has an exquisite scenery and pleasant climate.

Xiamen, one of the most vibrant economies in China

After many years' development, a multilayer, wide-range open economic system is in full fledge, supported by 3 Taiwanese investment zones (in Haicang, Xinglin and Jimei), Xiangyu Free Trade Zone, national-level high-tech industrial parks, export processing zones, software parks and business incubators. All these help to create a friendly environment for foreign investors. China International Fair for Investment and Trade (CIFIT) and China Xiamen Machinery and Electronics Exhibition (CXMEE), among others, have been held successfully for many consecutive years. Xiamen has emerged as a well-known destination for foreign investment and international trade.

Xiamen, one of the most competitive cities in China

Xiamen has 15 international sister cities, 18 international friendship ports, and has established regular contacts with 75 countries and regions. Xiamen received the coveted UN Habitat Award (2004), "Top Destination for Foreign Investment" and "City of Excellence in Civil Ethics" titles (3 consecutive years) as well as various other laurels including "National Model City for Environmental Protection", "National Award for Excellence in Sanitation", "National Excellence in Tourism", "China's Top 10 Most Livable Cities".

Xiamen, one of the most livable and eco-friendly cities in China

For years, Xiamen has been seeking harmony among society, economy and nature. The people of Xiamen are encouraged and empowered to actively participate in urban and community development. Through self-efforts and international collaboration, Xiamen has grown into a friendly community with healthy ecological system, livable environment, high living standards and strong public awareness of the environment.

Xiamen would be most happy to provide thoughtful and convenient service to host the finals of International Awards for Livable Communities!

Mr. Liu Keqing,
Mayor of Xiamen
