WHAT'S INSIDE?

Behind every window, you'll discover a carefully chosen capsule from some of our favourite Italian roasters, ready to bring warmth, comfort, and a touch of Italy to your day.

From bold Neapolitan roasts to elegant single origins, each capsule is designed to brew a rich, full-flavoured espresso that transforms your morning into a small celebration.

All capsules are fully compatible with Nespresso® Original machines and crafted for espresso, making it easy to enjoy café-quality coffee at home throughout the holiday season.

Inside, you'll find capsules from these roasteries:

WHY DO SOME CAPSULES COME IN A PLASTIC BAG?

You'll notice that some of the capsules in the calendar come in a small plastic bag, while others don't. That's simply because different roasters pack their capsules in different ways.

Some use an extra bag to better protect the coffee from oxygen and moisture – it helps preserve the flavour, especially if the capsule material isn't fully airtight on its own. Others use capsules (often aluminium) that are designed to be airtight without needing extra packaging.

Both approaches work – it's all about keeping the coffee tasting great!

CAFFÈ MOLINARI

In 1804, Giuseppe Molinari opened his first store in the heart of Modena, laying the foundation for what would become an icon of Italian coffee. Five generations later, the family's dedication to craftsmanship endures, carrying genuine Italian espresso from Modena's old town to cups around the world.

Since 1944, coffee has been roasted at the family's historic facility on Via Rismondo, where recipes are refined with patience and care. Each blend delivers a smooth, full-bodied taste and rich aroma, letting Molinari share a piece of Modena in every cup.

By preserving the roasting craft passed down since the Monti family took over the brand in 1930, Moka Efti creates blends with a smooth character and rich aroma. With respect for tradition, Moka Efti continues to share the taste of 1920s Berlin in every cup.

Pitti Caffè is part of Moka Efti, offering its own range of coffee blends and capsules while sharing the same Italian coffee expertise and tradition.
