

SHOT

SLIM

The SHOT jersey is designed for MX and enduro riders who demand high performance and maximum comfort. Its construction combines multiple technical materials: ventilated mesh on the sides and underarms for efficient moisture management, lightweight polyester on the front, and micro-mesh on the back for optimal ventilation during intense sessions.

The multi-layer panel construction provides a flexible and precise fit that allows unrestricted movement in all riding positions. The extended back panel keeps the jersey securely tucked into your pants, while the double-stitched hem and soft ribbed cuffs enhance both comfort and durability during long rides.
