

Museum Maker

Suitable for Years 7-13

In this popular session, students learn about the curation process and how The Story Museum designers create immersive narrative environments. They close-read a section of a text from a story and explore ways in which this could be made into a story space.

In this session the students will design their own Story Museum gallery space, using multi-sensory materials, based on a class story they know well. A highly effective way to put inference and critical thinking skills into practice.
