‘Sailing above the Arctic Circle to see the NORTHERN LIGHTS for the very first time was INCREDIBLE’

On my first night in Norway, I saw the Northern Lights. No one on the 11-day voyage down the mighty fjords had seen them before. I went out on deck, and there they were: the aurora borealis. They were something I’d always dreamed of seeing. I’d done TV shows on the aurora, but not once had I been lucky enough to see the natural phenomenon – but that night, I was. They looked amazing, and it wasn’t a one-off. We saw the lights on the next two nights as well. Talk about spoilt!

When we reached Tromsø, it looked like a Christmas card, with everything covered in snow and different coloured wooden houses flanking the historic port. I remember the view from the back of the ship as I looked between two fjords at the shimmering water, with the moon shining above and snow falling. It was breathtaking.

A highlight was Snowhotel Kirkenes. Each year, 15 tonnes of ice is used to build the magical structure. The beds are ice, the reception desk is ice, the bar is ice. I’m shivering thinking about it. We had a look around and drank wild berry juice in the bar. You could also have a deer hotdog – I didn’t because it made me think of Bambi!

Our trip to the North Cape was just as memorable. It felt like an adventure into the unknown as we motored through the wilderness, encircled by a snow plough, and headed to Europe’s most northerly point. The scenery was magical – a land of frozen white snow, with the bright sun beating down and colours reflecting all around. As we looked out from the clifftop, I felt that we’d reached the end of the earth. During the trip, we ate our meals together as a group, so I was able to sit with different people each day and get to know everyone. I held a private talk and told the group funny stories about things that go wrong on TV, and the talk I gave to the Queen at Sandringham. It was truly special.

Carol can’t wait to go husky sledding on her next Arctic adventure.

They say that sailing along the Norwegian fjords is the world’s most beautiful voyage. I had the time of my life and I can’t recommend it highly enough.

You’ll leave the southern tip of the Americas and glide through the waters of Drake Passage to the Arctic Peninsula, gazing at seals that are home to whales and seals. Cruise JAPAN in CHERRY BLOSSOM season

Experience the beautiful spectacle and discover the wonders of Tokyo and Mount Fuji in 2022.

Japan is a unique blend of ancient and modern. It boasts countless natural wonders and cultural highlights but, perhaps, no single experience is as beautiful or memorable as ‘hanami’ – cherry blossom viewing. Each spring, millions of Japanese people wait for the first buds of the pink cherry blossom (known as sakura; the symbol of renewal, vitality and beauty) to appear. Next year, you’ll have the chance to experience it for yourself. On this 15-day cruise, exclusively for Good Housekeeping readers, you’ll journey far and wide through this fascinating land.

Our trip starts in the frenetic capital city, Tokyo, which combines soaring skyscrapers with blooming gardens, noodle houses and western-style restaurants. And no trip to Japan would be complete without a visit to its most iconic landmark, the 3,776m Mount Fuji. Travelling on the Celebrity Cruises Celebrity Solstice, you’ll enjoy world-class amenities. Embark on a culinary adventure with menus crafted by award-winning chef Cornelius Gallagher, using locally sourced ingredients and paired with the most awarded wine collection at sea.

Other highlights are the hillside city of Kobe, the hot springs of Nagasaki, Korea’s port of Busan, seafood in Hakodate, and the Persian Garden of the Shirakami-Sanchi mountains.

Reasons to book
SEE THE CHERRY BLOSSOM
There’s no better time to visit Japan than during the hanami festivities, which celebrate the beauty of the cherry blossom and the fleeting nature of life. The blossom typically sweeps across the country between March and May, making this trip perfectly timed to see it at its most spectacular.

THE BEST OF JAPAN
This exclusive itinerary takes in so many must-see destinations, from the natural beauty of Hiroshima and the iconic Mount Fuji to Mount Godaisan with its temple and botanical garden, and, of course, the neon lights of Tokyo.

CRUISE ON CELEBRITY SOLSTICE
Celebrity Solstice is one of the most decorated Celebrity Cruises ships, and the crew aim to take care of every detail, leaving you to enjoy your luxury holiday. Their passion for outstanding cuisine takes on-board dining to a new level and the luxurious staterooms bring all the comforts of home to the sea. Enjoy a spa treatment or fitness class, play outdoor games, catch a concert or soak up the sun at The Lawn Club, half an acre of grass on the top deck, with a casual country club atmosphere.
