Useful Information

Lisboa is the capital of Portugal and the country’s biggest city, located on the estuary of the Tejo river, on the European Atlantic coast. It is continental Europe’s westernmost capital. Portugal’s official language is Portuguese. Derived from Latin roots, Portuguese is the third most spoken European language in the world, with around 200 million speakers. Around 3 million people live in the Lisboa region, with around 600 thousand living in the capital itself. The Portuguese Constitution allows religious freedom, with various religions being practised in Portugal.

Electric voltage: 230 / 400 volts, on a 50-hertz frequency. The electric sockets adhere to European standards. Blade plugs (US standard) must be used in conjunction with a 230 volts transformer, as well as an adapter.

In Lisboa winters are mild and summers hot, though moderated by its location near the sea. During spring and autumn there are usually sunny days with mild temperatures.

Local currency and Payments

The Euro is Portugal’s official currency, having been introduced in January 2002. 1 Euro is divided into 100 cents. There are coins of 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 cents and 1 and 2 Euros. The bills can be distinguished by their size and colour and have the following face values: 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500 Euros. In Portugal, payments can be made in cash, bank transfer, cheque, credit cards and debit cards.

'Os Musicais de Chico Buarque', by Joyce Cândido, is a proposal for a journey to one of the main figures of music sung in the Portuguese language. Joyce Cândido proposes to lead the public through a show that celebrates the repertoire which the renowned Brazilian musician wrote especially for musical theatre. Intimate, to the sound of the piano and the voice, the history of Chico's musicals is told and sung in a scenic and expressive performance. ‘Ópera do Malandro’, ‘O Grande Circo Místico’, ‘Gota d’água’, ‘Calabar: O Elogio da Traição’, ‘Os Saltimbancos’ and ‘Roda Viva’ are some of the high points of this concert.

Fado
INTANGIBLE HERITAGE OF HUMANITY
The song of Lisboa and the World

Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa’s “soul”. Much more than just a song, Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city’s way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar.

Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city’s heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa’s song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado’s universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amália Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950’s took Lisboa’s song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music.

The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO’s highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says “Silence, Fado is about to be sung”, this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, “a strange form of life” that is being renewed.
Fado Houses
Here visitors can experience the whole atmosphere and rituals associated with Lisboa’s song and listen to this language of emotions. Set in the historic districts of the city such as Alfama, Bairro Alto, Lapa and Alcântara, there are diverse establishments which host regular performances of fado, with resident artists.

The Iberian Songs cycle brings together Portuguese, Catalan, Galician and Basque singers for a dive into the diversity of the Iberian identity. The Portuguese folk songs are represented by an anthology compiled and interpreted by soprano Ana Quintans and pianist Filipe Raposo. The Catalan programme presents a concert which goes through the last 150 years of Catalan songs and adds more recent compositions by two authors who are still working. The Euskera Basque has an unknown origin which preceded Latin. In this songs cycle, artists Miren Urbieta-Vega and Rubén Fernández Aguirre bring to Lisboa a combination of folk songs and works of a new kind. Complementing this songs cycle there is the Galician representation, with a concert dedicated to the lyrical repertoire.

Recently, the artist has released ‘Vai / Gash’, an album which he kept in a drawer for over three decades and now presents to the fans. Written and recorded in a stream of consciousness in 1991, this record was born as an answer to his desire of having a specific kind of music to listen to when he was driving his Harley Davidson. In the words of Steve Vai, this work is ‘reminiscent of a certain kind of rock music I enjoyed as a teenager’.

More than a play, ‘A Morte de um Corvo’ is an immersive experience of visual, scenic and technological impact, which proposes a journey to 1924. The plot revolves around an anticipated funeral, the death of a Portuguese poet. It all begins when Fernando Pessoa invites Mário de Sá Carneiro to the initiation ritual into the Raven Association, a society which seeks the secret of life beyond death. The Association is led by Edgar Allan Poe, who is extremely jealous of Pessoa’s popularity. Ofélia’s rejection, Mário’s death and the deep disbelief in himself, among other events, will make the poet sink into a depressive cycle which will end in his death.

Frida Kahlo, the Immersive Biography

Until 31st December; from Tuesday to Sunday, between 5 pm and 8 pm; Reservatório da Mãe D’Água das Amoreiras, Praça das Amoreiras (metro: Rato | buses: 202, 758, 774, 713 | tram: 24). Tickets: 15 euros, general. More information at: portugalagenda.com

Frida Kahlo, the Immersive Biography is more than an exhibition; it is the combination of physical and digital environments which become an immersive and emotional journey through the life of one of the most influential artists of all time. In this 360º multimedia show, there are virtual reality experiences and video mapping in sculptures and holographic animations. The showing is divided in two moments. First, the visitors have the opportunity to go through different artistic installations, among which we can find historical photographs and original films. The second moment is characterized by the 360º audio-visual projection about Frida Kahlo’s personal life.
Susana Chiocca presents BITCHO, a project of music and performance. The artist embodies an ambiguous character, an ancestral being with a folk hybrid which represents a female animal. BITCHO presents itself, above all else, as a hybrid being that swallows its own mutant condition and expels it in bardic and shamanic spasms. It also represents a being that is as austere as it is fragile and as sensual as repulsive.

10th and 11th March; at 7 pm; Centro Cultural de Belém, Praça do Império (tram: 15 | bus: 714, 727, 728, 729, 751). Tickets: 12,5 euros. More information at: ccb.pt
EXHIBITIONS

Bosch: Contemporary Temptations

Until 19th March; from Tuesday to Sunday; from 10 am to 6 pm; Museu Nacional de Arte Antiga; Rua das Janelas Verdes (buses: 713, 714, 727). Tickets: 6 euros, general. More information at: museudearteantiga.pt

While the triptych 'The Temptations of Saint Anthony', by the Flemish painter Hieronymus Bosch, is on loan at the Palazzo Reale in Milan, the Museu Nacional de Arte Antiga (National Museum of Ancient Art) wanted to use the same space to give visibility to contemporary works which were directly inspired by a present-day perspective on the work. Until 19th January, the space will present a triptych by Pedro Portugal, from the Fundação EDP collection, and after that, until the end of the exhibition, a series of pieces purposely created by Pedro Zamith. The Museum thus tries to present two contemporary perspectives on the Temptations of Saint Anthony in the Desert, which in Portugal is called Santo Antão.

Révolutions Xenakis

Until 27th March; from Wednesday to Monday; from 10 am to 6 pm; Fundação Calouste Gulbenkian, Av. de Berna, 45 A (metro: São Sebastião, Praça de Espanha | buses: 713, 716, 718, 726, 742, 746, 756). Tickets: 3 euros. More information at: gulbenkian.pt

Révolutions Xenakis is an exhibition which is part of the celebration of the birth centenary of Romanian composer Iannis Xenakis. The exhibition honours the different dimensions of the artist, mainly the architectures of sound he created over the course of his career. Xenakis is considered an avant-garde artist and is seen as one of the founders of digital art. He was composer, architect, engineer, mathematics and computer enthusiast, but he was also a pioneer in various fields, such as electroacoustic music or computer music. This exhibition is a digital art installation which functions as a short-circuit of the scenographic process, covering the ceiling and the walls of the gallery.
Along the paths of street art

Art in Lisboa is represented on all the streets, avenues, corners and buildings. From the smallest details, such as the paving stones or the walls decorated with tiles, to the biggest architectural works, like the monuments History has left for all to see, there is much to discover. A new art form has been added to all these artistic styles and manifestations and it has been gaining international prominence. Street art has been gaining ground in various public environments over the last two decades and is still growing. Today, Lisboa is among the 5 best European destinations for those who want to enjoy this artistic style. Walking through the streets, one can find works by authors such as Odeith, Tamara Alves, Mário Belém, Vhils, Bordalo II, Aka Corleone, ±MaisMenos± or Smile, among dozens of others. These are joined by international names, who find their inspiration in this city and turn it into a canvas for the most diverse styles. There are more than 700 street art interventions to see in the Lisboa metropolitan area.

Every year new works are born. Walking around in the Graça neighbourhood, we quickly find the mark left by Shepard Fairey, from North-America, and Vhils, from Portugal. Together they created an artistic intervention alluding to the feminine figure. While the North-American painted half of a woman’s face, partially covered by a turban, the other half of the face was created by Vhils, who portrayed an uncovered face in black and white.

The examples multiply. One of the highlights is ‘Balance’, by AkaCorleone. The artist brought new life to the multi-sport facility at Campo Mártires da Pátria, turning it into a colourful and rejuvenating space. Another work which should be highlighted in the field of painting belongs to Mário Belém and can be found on the façade of the library at Alvalade. It is the mural ‘Lisboa Menina e Moça’, the title of a song by fado singer Carlos do Carmo, that represents a girl sitting on a pile of books. Fado is Lisboa’s song and it is part of the UNESCO Intangible Cultural Heritage.

On the same line, in Arroios, we find a mural by Mariana Duarte Santos. She started from a picture by Artur Pastor, one of the great names of Portuguese photography in the 20th century, to portray a merchant from a traditional shop in the neighbourhood in the 50s, representing the daily life and the traditions of that time. But street art is not just about painting. By the Santos train station, it is possible to find ‘La Folie des Grands’, by French author Julien Raffin, who, in spite of usually working with paper collages, took a chance on a tile panel representing two women interacting with the 25 de Abril Bridge.

Another example of how this style spreads across Lisboa in its most diverse formats, can be found at Parque das Nações. ‘Lince Ibérico’ by Bordalo II, who has several unmissable works in Lisboa, was created with plastic waste of every colour, shape and kind. The artist’s intent is to alert to the environmental issue, both in what concerns pollution and the protection of this endangered species.

There are countless works to see. Follow the street art guide you can find on the website www.visitlisboa.com Find out for yourself.
EXHIBITIONS

Sometimes I stare at a rock…

Until 31st March; from Tuesday to Sunday; from 10 am to 6 pm; Museu Nacional de Arte Antiga, Rua das Janelas Verdes (buses: 713, 714, 727). Tickets: 6 euros, general. More information at: museudearteantiga.pt

To mark the anniversary of artist João Cutileiro’s death, Teresa Segurado Pavão creates the exhibition ‘Às vezes, ponho-me a olhar para uma pedra…’. This showing is built around three concepts - fragment, memory and sculpture. It starts from a series of artistic objects, using clay as the element to integrate fragments which are the ‘waste’ from João Cutileiro’s sculptures. The artist uses the potter’s wheel to finish the pieces in order to evoke the lathe finishing Cutileiro applied to his sculptures and turns to iron for the connections between stone and ceramics (staples, spikes, links), alluding to the technique used by the sculptor in the structure of his works.

A Life on Stage

Peter Wächtler

Until 16th April; from Tuesday to Sunday; from 11 am to 6 pm; Culturgest, Rua Arco do Cego, 50 (metro: Campo Pequeno). Tickets: 5 euros. More information at: culturgest.pt

Peter Wächtler uses narrative and, above all, monologue as tools to create. The works by the German artist take us on a journey through a universe in which fantasy, fable and existentialism are allied in the creation of sets which explore a radical ambiguity. This exhibition is his first time in Portugal and celebrates a decade of works. Faced with his drawings, sculptures and films, one sometimes feels a certain derealisation. The characters from another time and with different manners reveal our disenchantments and expectations, embodying our collective anxiety and pointing the way to dream, imagination and allegory as the right paths to redemption.
In ‘O Tempo das Imagens IV’, the Portuguese Centre for Screen Printing exhibits 138 works by 87 authors who represent 22 nationalities. The exhibition is divided into four cores according to the distinct partnership projects and formal characteristics of the works. ‘Universalidade’ (Universality) represents artists and works that state the universality of art. The works in the core ‘Proximidade’ (Proximity) suggest a greater closeness to allow the visitors to enjoy every detail. ‘Diversidade’ (Diversity) exhibits works from a group of renowned artists, considering the multiplicity of their visions and styles and the core Humanity pays tribute to master engraver Humberto Marçal, coordinator of the engraving and lithograph editions of the Centro Português de Serigrafia for over 30 years.
EXHIBITIONS

A Barrier Against the Pacific

Until 21st May; from Tuesday to Sunday, from 10 am to 6 pm; Museu do Oriente, Av. Brasília, Doca de Alcântara (buses: 712, 713, 714, 727, 742, 751, 756, 728, 732, 760, 720, 738 | trams: 15E, 18E | train: Cascais, Alcântara-Mar station). Free entry. More information at: foriente.pt

How does Japan prepare for the risk of almost permanent destruction? Alice F. Martins presents the answer in the photographic exhibition ‘Uma Barreira contra o Pacífico’. With 46 black and white pictures, the artist portrays Hudai, the village that survived almost intact the tsunami which swept the northeast of the Japanese coast after the big earthquake of 2011. The reason is the 200 meter long and 15.5-meter-high anti-tsunami barrier of walls and hydraulic gates. This kind of construction is not unusual in Japan; however, this infrastructure stands out for its concept, adaptation to the region’s topography and for being planned based on past catastrophes.

The peculiar crime of oddball Mr. Jay

From 11th February, from Wednesday to Sunday, from 10 am to 1 pm and from:2:30 pm to 5:30 pm, Fábrica das Artes, Centro Cultural de Belém, Praça do Império (tram: 15 | bus: 714, 727, 728, 729, 751). Tickets: from 20 euros. More information at: ccb.pt

In a city where nature has been forbidden, a small crime by a simple man triggers a chain of unexpected consequences. This exhibition reveals the behind-the-scenes of the almost 11-minute long puppet short film directed by Bruno Caetano. The Portuguese film is one of the most shown all over the world, having participated in more than a hundred international festivals and won a dozen awards. Composed of streets, squares and façades of a miniature Lisboa, the exhibition shows several of the film’s sets, as well as used models, casts and graphic research material. As part of the exhibition, it is also possible to see the short film.
Nikias’ NikiaΣ

Nikias Skapinakis (1931-2020) was the author of a vast work which included painting, drawing and illustration, activities which he developed simultaneously with his vast production as a critic, with his artistic path being characterized mainly by the chromatic expression in portrait. This exhibition presents 80 works that Nikias Skapinakis kept for himself as a personal museum. The tribute to the artist surprises due to the particular selection of the works he has chosen to be part of his private space.

Until 21st May; from Tuesday to Friday; from 10 am to 1 pm and from 2 pm to 6 pm; Saturdays and Sundays; from 10 am to 2 pm and from 3 pm to 6 pm; Museu Nacional de Arte Contemporânea, Rua Serpa Pinto, 4 (metro: Baixa-Chiado | buses: 60, 208, 758 | tram: 28). Over 26 years, Luís Caetano Pereira de Carvalho built the centre piece of the exhibition ‘Cidade-Miniatura’, which the museum team affectionately calls ‘the fireman’s model’. The meticulous work made in polychrome wood is 2.21 meters long and 0.89 meters wide, in a 1:1000 scale. This model represents Lisboa in the first decades of the 20th century. It represents all the carefully studied buildings which were created with the characteristics and colours of the time, revealing the evolution of the city and the changes time has brought about since then.

The doors to the garden of Palácio Pimenta open to welcome the exhibition ‘Também estão no mapa?’, an opportunity to reflect on some territories of the Lisboa Metropolitan Area. This exhibition presents the many possible narratives which the city maps may contain. It is seen as an opportunity for the less known or talked about areas to participate; they thus get a chance to establish themselves as different territorial representations and traditional narratives that we know but which are rarely mentioned.
