FESTAS DE LISBOA

THE ROYAL TREASURE MUSEUM OPENING
An epic story that ends at the table.
The Lisboa festivities come alive again with the resumption of one of the most emblematic activities: the popular marches. The city’s typical neighbourhoods are able to show their marches again in a competition for the best and most original one. Each neighbourhood builds its scenery, costumes and performances based on its traditions and with the purpose of showcasing its best features. After the parade, prizes are awarded to the best choreography, scenography, best lyrics and best parade. Suspended since 2020 due to the pandemic, the theme is the one foreseen for that year and which continues to make perfect sense for Lisboa: the birth centenary of fado singer Amália Rodrigues.
Saint Anthony’s Weddings

The Saint Anthony’s weddings are a tradition which, this year, celebrates its 25th anniversary as an event. But its history is older and was born in 1958 with the initiative of the old newspaper Diário Popular, which intended to materialize the idea that Saint Anthony, the most charismatic of the Lisbon saints, was a matchmaker. The aim to help couples with bigger financial difficulties was always cherished by the people of Lisboa. Interrupted in 1974, the weddings were resumed by the City Hall with the same intention of fulfilling the dream of many brides and grooms, who, for different reasons, were not yet able to go through with the wedding. More recently, the ceremony was included in the Lisboa festivities.

Popular Festivities

Until 30th June, in the different neighborhoods of the city.
More information at: culturanarua.pt

Throughout the whole month of June, there is a party atmosphere in Lisboa. The smell of basil and grilled sardines invites everyone living in or passing through the city to join the tables and the grills in the streets and the courtyards of the typical neighbourhoods. From Alcântara to Santa Maria Maior, not forgetting Benfica or Olivais, the typical season snacks join the interaction, Portuguese music and the colours of the ornaments bringing joy to the streets.
John Cleese

Last time to see me before I die

3rd, 6th, 7th and 8th June, at 8 pm, Coliseu de Lisboa, Rua das Portas de Santo Antão, 96 (metro: Restauradores).
Tickets: from 5 to 10 euros. More information at: coliseulisboa.com

One of the most iconic British comedians comes to Portugal for a special show which considers the possibility of this being his last show in the country – “Last time to see me before I die”. Now, John Cleese, the comedian of the 60s, 70s and 80s generations, author and protagonist of the show “Fawlty Towers” and with a part in the film “A Fish Called Wanda”, goes on stage at the Coliseu de Lisboa for the first time, for a show which is to “laugh and cry for more”.
EVENT

Until 25th September, from Thursday to Sunday, at 3 pm, 5 pm and 7 pm, Reservatório Mãe d'Água das Amoreiras, Praça das Amoreiras (metro: Rato | buses: 202, 758, 774, 713 | tram: 24). Tickets: from 12 to 15 euros.

Mysterious Egypt

Prepared to travel through one of the most enigmatic cultures in the History of Mankind? Mysterious Egypt is the most recent immersive show produced by OCUBO. Drawing, light and laser are the ingredients of this audiovisual expedition which has stops in original contents throughout the history of Egyptian civilization. The centenary discovery of pharaoh Tutankhamun’s treasure, the inscription on the Rosetta Stone, the reign of Ramses II, as well as the enigma of the pyramid construction in Giza are some of this journey’s most symbolic moments and elements.
Come and discover the mysteries of Sintra

We will take you on an amazing journey through the stories and places that have imbued this region with mystery since time immemorial and have made Sintra one of the most popular destinations in the world. Stories of legends, reality mixed with fiction, mythical beings and distinguished visitors. See it all in 4D movies, holograms, videomapping and other technologies...

Useful Information

Lisboa is the capital of Portugal and the country’s biggest city, located on the estuary of the Tejo river, on the European Atlantic coast. It is continental Europe’s westernmost capital. Portugal’s official language is Portuguese. Derived from Latin roots, Portuguese is the third most spoken European language in the world, with around 200 million speakers.

Around 3 million people live in the Lisboa region, with around 600 thousand living in the capital itself. The Portuguese Constitution allows religious freedom, with various religions being practised in Portugal.

Electric voltage: 230 / 400 volts, on a 50-hertz frequency. The electric sockets adhere to European standards. Blade plugs (US standard) must be used in conjunction with a 230 volts transformer, as well as an adaptor.

In Lisboa winters are mild and summers hot, though moderated by its location near the sea. During spring and autumn there are usually sunny days with mild temperatures.

Local currency and Payments

The Euro is Portugal’s official currency, having been introduced in January 2002. 1 Euro is divided into 100 cents. There are coins of 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 cents and 1 and 2 Euros. The bills can be distinguished by their size and colour and have the following face values: 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500 Euros. In Portugal, payments can be made in cash, bank transfer, cheque, credit cards and debit cards.

Tax Free

Those who live outside the EU can benefit from VAT exemption in Portugal if they make purchases worth at least 50 euros and only for private use. For this purpose, you must present an identification document (passport or other official) to the seller, who will provide proof of the purchase registration. The process is completed when leaving the country, through an electronic terminal in the customs area of the airport, to certify the export of the goods acquired in Portugal and to know whether or not is entitled to a VAT refund.
Health

The Hospital Emergency Services must only be used for serious emergencies.

In order to have access to this service, E.U. citizens who are non-resident in Portugal must show their passport or ID card and E111 and E112 forms.

On Earth I’m Done: Mountains

Jefta van Dinther

24th and 25th June, at 7 pm and at 9 pm, Centro Cultural de Belém, Praça do Império

“On Earth I’m Done: Mountains” is the new solo show by Jefta van Dinther. Produced for the Swedish company Cullberg, the work is usually performed by two dancers of this company and by choreographer and performer Marco da Silva Ferreira. Jefta van Dinther, also a choreographer and dancer, will present a solo interpretation of the version by Marco da Silva Ferreira. A show which is tied to the symbolism and spirituality of a mountain, to the relationship it establishes with a body and a voice, in a performance which questions the nature-culture relationship, what it means to exist and to take care of the planet.

The song of Lisboa and the World
The song of Lisboa and the World

 Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa's "soul". Much more than just a song, Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city's way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar.

Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city's heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa's song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado's universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amália Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950's took Lisboa's song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music.

The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO's highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says "Silence, Fado is about to be sung", this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, "a strange form of life" that is being renewed.
SPECIAL FADO

Fado Houses
Here visitors can experience the whole atmosphere and rituals associated with Lisboa’s song and listen to this language of emotions. Rock in Rio Lisboa

Rock in Rio Lisboa opens the doors to the City of Rock once again to celebrate music in the ninth edition of the festival in the Portuguese capital. With several stages and activities from different cultural expressions, this edition includes unavoidable names of the international and national music scene. Black Eyed Peas, Xutos & Pontapés, Ellie Goulding, HMB, Post Malone, Anitta, David Carreira, Jason Derulo are some of the names confirmed for the World Stage. Among other novelties, there is a more pluralist Rock Your Street with big world music names, such as Jupiter & Okwess, Magdalena Bay, Bruno Pernadas, Sara Correia, El Hombre, Arooj Aftab, Omar Souleyman, Titica, Johnny Hooker and Idiotape. The City of Rock also opens a new Yorn Stage, a renewed Chef’s Garden, a Game Square, a new Ferris wheel and brings back the Slide.

MOGA Caparica

From the 1st to the 5th of June, in different locations in Costa da Caparica (bus: 161, departure from Praça do Areeiro). Tickets: from 48 euros. More information at: caparica.mogafestival.com

The MOGA festival is a fusion of electronic music, beach parties and several events taking place in parallel. Inspired by the vibes of the Atlantic, it takes place both in Essaouira, in Morocco, and in Costa da Caparica. The name comes from the word Mogador, the way the Portuguese called the Moroccan land, several centuries ago. But Moga is also the name of a tribe, a community of nomads who share values and lifestyles that can be experienced at the festival. Between sunset beach parties, sea parties, brunches, surfing and yoga, there are also electronic music concerts, with artists such as Amine K, Audiofly, Carlita, Dam Swindle, Dan Shake, Lola Villa, Madd Rod, Mafalda, Magupi, among many others.
FEST4KIDS

Games, educational sessions, sporting competitions, e-gaming, culture and many concerts characterize this new festival for children of all ages, which aims to be the biggest in the Iberian Peninsula. Prepared so that the whole family may take advantage of the different spaces, there are plays for babies, FIFA tournaments, trampolines and even Tik Tok revelations. The main stage will present Carolina Deslandes, D.A.M.A and the group Team BRK, creators of the Tik Tok Show.

FNAC LIVE

FNAC Live opens the summer festivals season in Lisboa. With a stage by the riverfront, it promises excitement and lots of music for everyone. Besides gathering renowned artists, it also gives an opportunity to some of the most promising names in the future of Portuguese music. Alongside distinct sonorities, FNAC Live includes the presentation of the FNAC 2022 New Talents Prizes, as well as a cultural program, as if it were a live FNAC FORUM, with cinema, photography, illustration, stand-up comedy and entertainment for the younger ones.
The Heavy Rock Festival VOA has its 11th edition in the end of June, lasting until the first few days of the following month. On stage on this first day will be Gojira, the quartet from Ondres, with its strong environmental message; one of the most acclaimed trash bands from the 80s, Megadeth; Kreator, authors of albums such as “Endless Pain”, “Pleasure to Kill”, “Terrible Certainty”; Kvelertak, a Norwegian heavy metal band; and also the Portuguese band Bizarra Locomotiva, lead by Rui Sidónio and Miguel Fonseca.
CONCERT

Guns N’Roses

4th June, at 6 pm, Passeio Marítimo de Algés (bus: 776 | train: Cascais line, Algés station).
Tickets: 69 euros. More information at: everythingisnew.pt

Axl Rose, Duff McKagan, Slash, Dizzy Reed, Richard Fortus, Frank Ferrer and Melissa Reese need no big introduction. Born in 1985, the Los Angeles band has six studio albums and is a reference in music history. After having their trip to Portugal postponed twice, Guns N’ Roses go on stage at Passeio Marítimo de Algés for a single concert, which first part will present Gary Clark Jr.. Having begun in 2016, the band’s Not In This Lifetime tour has already given 160 concerts for more than 5,5 million fans all over the world.
CONCERTS

Lightning Bolt

The duo from Rhode Island, Brian Gibson and Brian Chippendale, proposes an evening full of energy. Chippendale’s frantic drums join the distorted melodies from Gibson’s bass guitar in unexpected music. The North-American band returns to Portugal to present its most recent work, “Sonic Citadel”, the seventh long-play album. Already known for their energetic and very high-volume performances, Lightning Bolt are already known for their refusal of traditional stages and for liking to perform by the crowd, in the middle of the audience, as is the case once again.

Anastacia

8th June, at 8:30 pm, Campo Pequeno (metro: Campo Pequeno). Tickets: from 25 to 50 euros. More information at: campopequeno.pt

Anastacia celebrates her 22-year career with a world tour which includes Lisboa. Besides the multiplatinum albums, she has also sold more than 30 million records all over the world. The North-American singer is known and acclaimed for her powerful voice and for hits like “I’m Outta Love” and “Left Outside Alone”. Her concerts are characterized by her endless energy, which rubs off on the audience.
On Valentine’s Day, Soraia Ramos released her most recent single, “BKBN”, i.e. Bu KaBali Nada, meaning you aren’t worth a thing. Now, she goes on stage at Capitólio for a concert eagerly awaited by the fans. The sound of afro-pop promises to rub off on everyone in a night which will include songs like “I Love You Too”, “Bai”, “Agora Penso Por Mim” and “O Nosso Amor”, some of the artist's biggest hits. The concert will also be have some surprises and the participation of special guests.

The hits of the one considered the queen of samba promise to make everybody dance. Celebrating her 50-year career, Alcione comes to Lisboa to celebrate with her fans. With songs which became true hits over five decades, such as “Estranha Loucura”, “Você Me Vira a Cabeça”, “Além da Cama”, “Meu Ébano” and “A Loba”, Alcione brings together on stage boleros, jazz and, naturally, much samba, in a true journey through the Brazilian imagery.

From the altar to the street
Saint Anthony in the ceramics of Delfim Manuel

Delfim Manuel, a Portuguese ceramist with several recognitions and national awards, dedicates an exhibition to the saint from the city of Lisboa. In the month where Saint Anthony is celebrated, the artist exhibits 13 pieces which were exclusively created for this showing. The craftsman stands out for the way in which he handles the clay and the expertise and gentleness he puts into the pieces he creates. Every year he creates a new image dedicated to the saint, which he produces in small numbered series. And in the exhibition “Do altar para a rua”, besides the new pieces, it is possible to see more than 20 others which were created since 1996.

Cross Games. Travels between East and West

The exhibition “Jogos Cruzados. Viagens entre Oriente e Ocidente” intends to help people understand how games became a mirror of World History, as well as to be a reflection of the relations established between Europe and Asia since the 1500s. Starting from one of the world’s biggest private board games collections, this showing reveals a little bit about the Asian production for the European market, which took place from the 16th century until the middle of the 19th century, as well as the presence of western games in the east.
The royal treasure chest is open

Lisboa opens its doors to a hidden and long-awaited treasure. Thus, from 1st June, in the west wing of Palácio da Ajuda, you can visit the Royal Treasure Museum, where a collection of rare and valuable jewels, insignia and decorations, coins and civil and religious jewellery pieces will be on display, for the first time at their own and permanent address.

The collection of the Royal Treasure Museum is installed in one of the world’s biggest vaults, fitted with sophisticated security and video surveillance equipments, 5-ton armoured doors and showcases with temperature and humidity control as well as bulletproof glass.

Open every day from 10 am to 7 pm, the Royal Treasure Museum keeps a collection of high-value objects, related to symbolisms, ceremonies and rituals.
Among jewels, coins, medals, civil and religious jewellery pieces, some more emblematic objects stand out. Among them, the emerald bow which belonged to the sister of D. Maria I, D. Mariana. This adornment started as a big bow for the corset front. Composed of 216 diamonds and 31 Colombian emeralds cut in the baroque style of the first half of the 18th century, it was, at the request of D. Maria Pia, transformed into several pieces, such as necklace, earrings, brooch, bracelet and comb. As the gold and silver frame remained intact, it was possible to reconstruct it.

The sabre of D. Miguel, one of the most controversial Portuguese kings, is also exhibited in this museum. Responsible for the movement known in history as Vila-Francada, which ended with the dissolution of the liberalist courts and the restoration of an absolutist power, he had a weapon manufactured to immortalize his moment of glory. According to the inscriptions on both sides of the blade, the sabre was manufactured at the Royal Factory of Toledo, in 1824. In the sword hilt there is an eagle taming a serpent, which, in a free interpretation, could represent absolutism overpowering liberalism.

The Germain tableware is another set of unavoidable pieces in this exhibition. Commissioned by king D. José I to the goldsmith François-Thomas Germain in 1756, right after the Lisboa earthquake (in 1755) which destroyed a big part of the royal treasure, the tableware was supposed to restore the splendour of the Portuguese court. Made with molten silver, the rococo-style tableware is a true work of art in its details. Destined for French service royal banquets, it became the first tableware of the crown and today it is the only set of its kind in the whole world.

There are many gems to be seen in this museum composed by eleven exhibition sections, on three floors. Here we can find more than a thousand pieces, some of them from private collections of king D. Fernando II and his son, D. Luís I.

In a setting which elevates the expression of wealth and the decorative arts of the Portuguese monarchic period, the Royal Treasure Museum is Lisboa’s new jewel. Discover for yourself.

“Territórios desconhecidos: a criatividade das mulheres na cerâmica moderna e contemporânea portuguesa” is the most recent temporary exhibition at Museu Nacional do Azulejo. The showing, which occupies the two exhibition rooms, promotes a path through the tile art developed by female artists. From pieces belonging to the museum, to public and private collections, also including three-dimensional pieces, the showing presents works from 64 authors, revealing the contribution of women to the development of ceramic art from the post-war period until today.

Mattia Denisse

From 24th June, from Tuesday to Sunday, from 11 am to 6 pm, Culturgest, Rua Arco do Cego (metro: Campo Pequeno). Tickets: 5 euros. More information at: culturgest.pt

Crossing the border between writing and the visual world because he believes they are manifestations inherent to one and the same creative energy, Mattia Denisse, writer and artist, presents a series of his works at Culturgest. Reality, surrealism, dream, speculation, science and knowledge are some of the several topics which lead the artist through his creative process.
Anunciação
Silêncio Coletivo

Until 2nd July, from Wednesday to Saturday, from 3 pm to 9 pm, Hangar, Centro de Investigação Artística, Rua Damasceno Monteiro, 12 (buses: 734, 797 | tram: 28E). Free entry. More information at: hangar.com.pt

This is the first exhibition by the duo Silêncio Coletivo, consisting of Brazilian artists Jaime Lauriano and Igor Vidor. Starting from an investigation into the protests of the “black lives matter” movement, which contests the celebration of colonization in several countries of the world and which has lead to the fall of statues representing colonizers and slavers, Anunciação tries to address the importance of rethinking these facts. The exhibition occupies the whole Hangar and presents cardboard images of recently knocked down monuments referring to colonization.

Europa Oxalá

Until August, from Wednesday to Monday, from 10am to 6pm, last entry at 5:30pm, Fundação Gulbenkian, Av. de Berna (metro: Praça de Espanha, São Sebastião | buses: 716, 726, 756, 746, 713, 742). Ticket: 5 euros. More information at: gulbenkian.pt

“Europa Oxalá” is a collective exhibition which counts on the participation of 21 artists with family origins in the former African colonies. Being children and grandchildren of people who were born and lived in Angola, Congo, Benin, Guinea, Algeria and Madagascar, they inherit memories, images, gestures and sounds from their cultures of origin, to which they add research work for their artistic productions. Reflections on racism, the status of women in society, the deconstruction of colonial thinking and the decolonization of the arts itself are the themes portrayed in this exhibition, which displays about 60 works, including drawings, paintings, sculptures, installations, photos and films.
EXHIBITIONS

Traverser la Nuit

Until 29th August, from Wednesday to Monday, from 10 am to 7pm, MAAT – Museu de Arte, Arquitetura e Tecnologia, Av. Brasília (train: Cascais line, Belém station | buses: 728, 714, 727, 729, 751 | tram: 15). Tickets: general, 5 euros; students and seniors, 3 euros. More information at: maat.pt

“Traverser la Nuit” revela um amplo panorama da coleção pessoal de Antoine de Galbert, um artista que prima pela ligação entre a arte contemporânea, as artes populares e a arte bruta. O tema da noite inspira-se no local e na história do espaço expositivo: a Central Tejo. Construído no início do século XX para fornecer eletricidade a Lisboa e arredores, o edifício é um verdadeiro testemunho da transformação do início do século, que alterou por completo a relação que o ser humano tem com a noite. Nesta exposição, os visitantes podem atravessar o período noturno, do crepúsculo até ao amanhecer, passando por diversas etapas.

Interferences

Emerging Urban Cultures

Until 5th September, from Wednesday to Monday, from 10 am to 7 pm, MAAT – Museu de Arte, Arquitetura e Tecnologia, Av. Brasília (train: Cascais line, Belém station | buses: 728, 714, 727, 729, 751 | tram: 15). Tickets: general, 5 euros; students and seniors, 3 euros. More information at: maat.pt

Lisboa is characterized, among several factors, by its cultural diversity. And the exhibition “Interferências” intends to affirm exactly that characteristic. MAAT is thus transformed into a stage of stories, which give visibility and create a dialogue between works from contemporary artists, who use the streets as an expression context, and works from private, more institutional collections. In a showing which presents pieces from the Centro de Arte Moderna Gulbenkian collection as well as from the Archives of RTP and also from several artists, such as Filipa Bossuet, Petra Preta, ±maismenos±, Onun Trigueiros, the museum privileges the different narrative itineraries, becoming a space for criticism and, at the same time, a meeting place for several communities.
Prisma
Vhils

Until 5th September, from Wednesday to Monday, from 10 am to 7 pm, MAAT – Museu de Arte, Arquitetura e Tecnologia, Av. Brasília (train: Cascais line, Belém station | buses: 728, 714, 727, 729, 751 | tram: 15). Tickets: general, 5 euros; students and seniors, 3 euros. More information at: maat.pt

Vhils, artistic name of Alexandre Farto, performs several works of public art a bit all over the world. Prisma, contrary to his usual works, is an exhibition which resorts exclusively to video and which represents the daily life in nine metropolises: Mexico City, Cincinnati, Hong Kong, Lisboa, Los Angeles, Macau, Paris, Beijing and Shanghai. This is a large-scale installation which provides and immersive experience into a reality of trivial environments and in which the identity of their inhabitants is lost by being manipulated and distorted with space, scale and lighting effects. However, the essence of the spaces can be recovered through critical distancing, in an exercise of contemplation, introspection and reflection.

Água – uma exposição sem filtro

Until September, from Tuesday to Friday, from 10am to 6pm, last entry at 5:30pm, weekends, from 10am to 7pm, last entry at 6:30pm, Pavilhão do Conhecimento, Centro Ciência Viva, Largo José Mariano Gago (metro: Oriente | buses: 400, 705, 708, 725, 728, 744, 750, 759, 782 e 794). Tickets: 10 euros, general, youngsters up to 17 years of age, 8 euros, seniors, 7 euros. More information at: pavconhecimento.pt

In the world there are still at least two million people who have no access to potable water. But “Água – uma exposição sem filtro” does not intend to be a serious or pessimistic exhibition. Quite the contrary: in a positive and conscious tone, this exhibition, which is mainly dedicated to the younger ones, explores the different ways to use water. In 30 modules and four big themes, the visitors will be able to experiment present and future activities with and without access to this essential asset, in order to draw everyone’s attention to the importance of saving and using it efficiently.

The Roaring ‘20s in Lisboa

Until 11th December, from Tuesday to Sunday, from 10 am to 6 pm, last entry at 5:30 pm, Palácio Pimenta, Museu de Lisboa, Campo Grande (metro: Campo Grande | buses: 701, 717, 735, 736, 738, 747, 750, 755, 767, 778, 783, 796, 798). Tickets: 3 euros. More information at: museudelisboa.pt

The Museu de Lisboa presents a retrospective of last century’s 20s in the exhibition “The Roaring ‘20s in Lisboa”. Even today, the decade of 1920 is still remembered as a period of transformation in customs and mentalities. Lisboa was not excluded from this movement: modernity, social and individual affirmation were also experienced in the Portuguese capital. In spite of the political and economic instability of the time, Lisboa followed some trends, spreading the novelties and extravagances which arrived through the press, literature, radio and cinema. Thus, this exhibition transports us to that same time period through personal stories and experiences.

Abstract, White, Toxic and Volatile

Julião Sarmento

Until January 2023, every day, from 10 am to 6:30 pm, Museu Coleção Berardo, Praça do Império (train: Cascais line, Belém station | buses: 729, 714, 727, 728, 751 | tram: 15). Tickets: from Sunday to Friday, 5 euros; Saturday, free entry. More information at: museuberardo.pt

Julião Sarmento, one of the Portuguese artists with a more solid international career, can be known or revisited in a first big posthumous exhibition, at Museu Coleção Berardo. Entitled “Abstracto, Branco, Tóxico e Volátil”, the name of one of his pieces dated 1997, this showing gathers a series of works which marked the artist’s career. With works which do not present hypothesis or conclusions, the public is invited to enjoy the textures and the complexity of the compositions, as well as to discover enigmatic and sophisticated images.
The expression goes “Whoever drinks from Lilau’s water will never forget Macau” and this exhibition is as much a visit to the collection of the artist Nuno Barreto as a journey through the images he took, both from the people and from the places of the Macanese territory. Between acrylics, gouaches, drawing books, drafts, notes, magazines, books, catalogues and photographs, the oriental city has left such a mark in the artist, that he even claims ‘it entered his blood never to leave it again’.
