In addition to the films in competition, the 16th edition also features the "Rota dos Sabores", a journey to discover more than 30 restaurants where Italians living in Lisboa like to eat.

The mission of the Refood movement is to rescue food and donate it people in need in a gesture of solidarity and sustainability. Useful Information

Lisboa is the capital of Portugal and the country’s biggest city, located on the estuary of the Tejo river, on the European Atlantic coast. It is continental Europe’s westernmost capital. Portugal’s official language is Portuguese. Derived from Latin roots, Portuguese is the third most spoken European language in the world, with around 200 million speakers. Around 3 million people live in the Lisboa region, with around 600 thousand living in the capital itself. The Portuguese Constitution allows religious freedom, with various religions being practised in Portugal.

Electric voltage: 230 / 400 volts, on a 50-hertz frequency. The electric sockets adhere to European standards. Blade plugs (US standard) must be used in conjunction with a 230 volts transformer, as well as an adaptor.

In Lisboa winters are mild and summers hot, though moderated by its location near the sea. During spring and autumn there are usually sunny days with mild temperatures.

Local currency and Payments

The Euro is Portugal’s official currency, having been introduced in January 2002. 1 Euro is divided into 100 cents. There are coins of 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 cents and 1 and 2 Euros. The bills can be distinguished by their size and colour and have the following face values: 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500 Euros. In Portugal, payments can be made in cash, bank transfer, cheque, credit cards and debit cards.

Fado
INTANGIBLE HERITAGE OF HUMANITY
The song of Lisboa and the World

Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa’s “soul”. Much more than just a song, Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city’s way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar.

Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city’s heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa’s song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado’s universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amália Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950’s took Lisboa’s song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music.

The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO’s highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says “Silence, Fado is about to be sung”, this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, “a strange form of life” that is being renewed.
Fado Houses
Here visitors can experience the whole atmosphere and rituals associated with Lisboa’s song and listen to this language of emotions. Set in the historic districts of the city such as Alfama, Bairro Alto, Lapa and Alcântara, there are diverse establishments which host regular performances of fado, with resident artists.

The Death of the Raven

Until 30th July; from Wednesday to Saturday; at 9 pm; Sundays; at 5 pm; Hospital Militar da Estrela, Rua Santo António à Estrela, 29 A (buses: 720, 738, 773 | trams: 25E, 28E). Tickets: 38 euros. More information at: amortedocorvo.com

More than a play, ‘A Morte de um Corvo’ is an immersive experience of visual, scenic and technological impact, which proposes a journey to 1924. The plot revolves around an anticipated funeral, the death of a Portuguese poet. It all begins when Fernando Pessoa invites Mário de Sá Carneiro to the initiation ritual into the Raven Association, a society which seeks the secret of life beyond death. The Association is led by Edgar Allan Poe, who is extremely jealous of Pessoa’s popularity. Ofélia’s rejection, Mário’s death and the deep disbelief in himself, among other events, will make the poet sink into a depressive cycle which will end in his death.

April is known here as the month of freedom. 49 years ago, on the 25th, a group of military officers started a revolution, the Carnation Revolution, as it is known, which overthrew the dictatorial regime and established democracy in the country. This day is a national holiday, the ‘Freedom Day’.

Lisboa was the stage for most of the events and it is possible to walk through and visit several spaces which witnessed that moment. The revolution started during the night of 24th April in the Pontinha Barracks, where the military officers commanded all operations of the Revolution until the 26th. Today, this place is open to the public for visits and the operations room has been kept intact since then. It was over the microphones of the radio station Emissores Associados de Lisboa, which building still stands at Avenida Elias Garcia, that the group of military officers communicated the beginning of the operation, by playing one of the key songs – ‘E depois do Adeus’, by Paulo de Carvalho. The next signal, which confirmed the unfolding of the revolution, was given through Rádio Renascença, which studio was then located at Rua do Capelo, with the song ‘Grândola, Vila Morena’, by Zeca Afonso, that was censored at the time.

It is already on the morning of the 25th April that the group of military officers commanded by captain Salgueiro Maia arrives in Lisboa, coming from Santarém, to occupy the Terreiro do Paço. However, before arriving at this iconic square, which has been a historical symbol of political power for centuries, at Rua do Arsenal and at Avenida Ribeira das Naus they face resistance by the supporters of the regime.

After moments of tension and negotiation, the military officers occupy the Praça do Comércio, one of the biggest squares in Europe. The buildings surrounding it are still occupied today by some government departments, such as ministries, and the Supreme Court of Justice. The bridge over the Tejo was also a stage for the events of this day, having been occupied by the Revolution troops in order to prevent the pro-regime army from retaliating. It is still today one of the most important connections between the 2 river banks, it is an icon of Lisboa and it was renamed as 25th April Bridge on the fifth anniversary of the movement which established democracy in the country.

After taking the ministries which were at Terreiro do Paço, the revolutionary movement went on to the Carmo Barracks, because the head of government of the time, Marcello Caetano, was there. The Carmo Barracks is an old convent of the Carmelite Order and its gothic church, due to its grandeur and monumentality, was able to compete with the Cathedral of Lisboa (Sé de Lisboa). The monument was reduced to ruins in the earthquake of 1755 and was not rebuilt, having remained until now as one of the main witnesses of the catastrophe. Nowadays, the unaffected area is the headquarters of the General Command of the National Republican Guard (Guarda Nacional Republicana), and it was here that, in 1974, the Head of State of the time found refuge and surrendered by the end of the day.

This day marked a turning point in the history of Portugal. Forty-nine years later, the Carnation Revolution is celebrated with various initiatives in Lisboa. Find out for yourself.

This is the first showing of the cycle ‘In the Present Now’, inspired by Italo Calvino’s ideas. The exhibition seeks references that observe the world as if in a magic realism. Thus, each work is read individually, but can be related to the others, making it possible to see the cohesion of the whole.

The exhibition 'Luigi Ghirri. Obra Aberta', by the Italian photographer Luigi Ghirri (1943-1992), presents about eighty pictures taken in the last twelve years of his short career and is the first showing by the Italian artist in Lisboa. Ghirri dedicated himself, among other themes, to landscape photography as an allegorical field for exploring both the inner and the outer world around him. How does Japan prepare for the risk of almost permanent destruction? Alice F. Martins presents the answer in the photographic exhibition ‘Uma Barreira contra o Pacífico’. With 46 black and white pictures, the artist portrays Hudai, the village that survived almost intact the tsunami which swept the northeast of the Japanese coast after the big earthquake of 2011. The reason is the 200 meter long and 15.5-meter-high anti-tsunami barrier of walls and hydraulic gates. This kind of construction is not unusual in Japan; however, this infrastructure stands out for its concept, adaptation to the region’s topography and for being planned based on past catastrophes.

A Life on Stage
Peter Wächtler

Until 16th April; from Tuesday to Sunday; from 11 am to 6 pm; Culturgest, Rua Arco do Cego, 50 (metro: Campo Pequeno). Tickets: 5 euros.

Peter Wächtler uses narrative and, above all, monologue as tools to create. The works by the German artist take us on a journey through a universe in which fantasy, fable and existentialism are allied in the creation of sets which explore a radical ambiguity. This exhibition is his first time in Portugal and celebrates a decade of works. Faced with his drawings, sculptures and films, one sometimes feels a certain derealisation. The characters from another time and with different manners reveal our disenchantments and expectations, embodying our collective anxiety and pointing the way to dream, imagination and allegory as the right paths to redemption.
