The Jazz rhythms in August promise to transport the audience to other cities. In its 38th edition, the festival highlights the sonorities which make the audience fly from Lisboa to Chicago and New York, with a short stopover in London. Entanglements, Nicole Mitchell, Jaimie Branch and Angel Bat Dawid are the musicians who, through their avant-gardism and their compositions’ social and political dimension, transport the audience to the city of Chicago. The collective Ahmed makes the detour to London and Ava Mendoza, Kris Davis, Nate Wooley, Chris Corsan and John Zorn are responsible for the trip to New York. Names like Carlos ‘Zin-garo’, João Lencastre, Pedro Carneiro and Rodrigo Pinheiro bring us back to Lisboa.
The Sol da Caparica festival is back with an extra day of music and excitement. Between pop, hip hop, rock, electronic music and several other styles, the festival rhythm will certainly be attending this celebration of Portuguese music. Among the novelties for this edition, one stands out: a stage dedicated to electronic music, where several DJs will be performing every day of the festival. And because this is not just a music festival, there will be other activities on the grounds, such as dance and comedy. Some of the confirmed artists stand out, namely Clá, Fernando Daniel, Syro, Virgul, Anna Joyce, Bonga, Piruka, Richie Campbell, Branko, Cuca Roseta, Diogo Piçarra, Plutónio, ProfJam, Sam The Kid with Orchestra and Orelha Negra, Bárbara Bandeira, Carlão, José Cid, as well as comedians like Fernando Rocha and Gilmário Vemba.
The opera festival invading Lisboa in August brings a new schedule and promises much adrenaline. Under the motto “Destino em vertigem” (‘Destiny in Vertigo’), it humorously presents the return to fantasy and to the masks to bring the opera to distinct audiences. The schedule of the festival, directed by Catarina Molder, thus proposes ‘A masked ball by Verdi’, a work by the Italian Verdi, which, inspired by the assassination of the King of Sweden, addresses the idea of the fatal destiny, and ‘Labyrinth’ by Samuel Barber and Gian-Carlo Menotti, a story about a newly-wed couple that can’t find their hotel room key. There are also several other activities, between operas for the younger audience, singing lessons for amateurs and workshops for professionals. As we have come to expect, it ends with the operatic rave ‘Masked Ball to defy destiny’, with dance, opera and pop music.
Verão Clássico

Until 13th August, in different venues in Lisboa. Tickets: 8 and 16 euros. More information at: veraoclassico.com

It is described as an artistic and pedagogical initiative, a cultural project which is open to all types of audiences. More than a festival, Verão Clássico (Classical Summer) is also an academy for young people. Besides several concerts, one thousand young musicians have the opportunity to participate in master classes, where some of the best performances will be awarded prizes. The 2022 edition will include works from the musical repertoire from the 18th to the 21st centuries, four MasterFest concerts and six TalentFest concerts, in which the master classes' participants will be performing. Konstantin Lifschitz, Pavel Vernikov, Miguel da Silva, Lars Anders, Gunars Upatnieks, Silvia Careddu, Pascal Moraguès, Anna Samuil and Filipe Pinto-Ribeiro are some of the musicians to attend the event.

Out Jazz

7th, 14th, 21st, 28th August, at 5 pm, Jardins da Quinta Real de Caxias (train: Cascais line, station: Caxias). Free entry. More information at: outjazz.pt

The Sunday afternoons will be full of good vibes and rhythms. Out Jazz continues to bring music to the city gardens and to fill them with jazz, soul, funk and hip-hop. With the aim of dynamizing outdoor life and Lisboa’s green spaces, the festival invites Portuguese artists and musicians to provide fun afternoons until sunset. Indra Trio, Hélder Russo, Rita Onofre, Gipsy, Trio Daniel Neto, Deby Dread, Fauksa 4Tet and Mr. Mute complete the line-up which turns every Sunday of the month into a festival day.

Useful Information

Lisboa is the capital of Portugal and the country’s biggest city, located on the estuary of the Tejo river, on the European Atlantic coast. It is continental Europe’s westernmost capital. Portugal’s official language is Portuguese. Derived from Latin roots, Portuguese is the third most spoken European language in the world, with around 200 million speakers. Around 3 million people live in the Lisboa region, with around 600 thousand living in the capital itself. The Portuguese Constitution allows religious freedom, with various religions being practised in Portugal.

Electric voltage: 230 / 400 volts, on a 50-hertz frequency. The electric sockets adhere to European standards. Blade plugs (US standard) must be used in conjunction with a 230 volts transformer, as well as an adaptor.

In Lisboa winters are mild and summers hot, though moderated by its location near the sea. During spring and autumn there are usually sunny days with mild temperatures.

Local currency and Payments

The Euro is Portugal’s official currency, having been introduced in January 2002. 1 Euro is divided into 100 cents. There are coins of 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 cents and 1 and 2 Euros. The bills can be distinguished by their size and colour and have the following face values: 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500 Euros. In Portugal, payments can be made in cash, bank transfer, cheque, credit cards and debit cards.

Fado

INTANGIBLE HERITAGE OF HUMANITY
The song of Lisboa and the World

Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa's “soul”. Much more than just a song, Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city's way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar.

Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city's heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa's song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado's universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amália Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950's took Lisboa's song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music.

The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO's highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says "Silence, Fado is about to be sung", this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, “a strange form of life” that is being renewed.
Fado Houses
Here visitors can experience the whole atmosphere and rituals associated with Lisboa’s song and listen to this language of emotions. Set in the historic districts of the city such as Alfama, Bairro Alto, Lapa and Alcântara, there are diverse establishments which host regular performances of fado, with resident artists.

Lisboa na Rua

Until September, in several of the city’s gardens and squares. Free entry. More information at: culturanarua.pt

In August, Lisboa hosts culture around the city in a unique way. Outdoor spaces become concert halls, libraries or even sets for theatre plays. It is possible to sit in a garden, under a tree, and let yourself be embraced by the style of a music playing or get involved in the story from a book in a mobile library. Over the month and until September, the city invites residents and visitors to get involved in the several cultural activities happening outdoors. One of this culture festival’s biggest highlights is the classical music concert with Orquestra Gulbenkian, in Vale do Silêncio.
Clutch, one of the biggest cult bands, makes its debut in Portugal, on the stage of Capitólio. Neil Fallon, Dan Maines, Jean-Paul Gaster and Tim Sult are the members of this quartet from Maryland which was created in the beginning of the 1990s. The band, which evolved from its punk and hardcore roots, added funk, blues and rock to the sonorities list. The veteran band has been winning fans for three decades and will play some of its most recent hits, like ‘Earth Rocker’ and ‘Psychic Warfare’. The first part of the concert will present Planet Of Zeus, a heavy rock band from Athens.
One of the biggest phenomena in Brazilian music comes back to Portugal with a suitcase full of his biggest hits. With singles reaching millions of views on the several digital platforms, the Brazilian singer-songwriter presents his album ‘The Comeback’, with songs like ‘Morena’, one of the most played songs at the moment, ‘Te Esperando’, ‘Amar não é pecado’, ‘Quando a Bad Bater’, ‘Chuva de Arroz’, among others. “Traverser la Nuit” reveals a comprehensive view on the personal collection of Antoine de Galbert, an artist who excels in the connection between contemporary art, popular arts and outsider art. The night theme is inspired by the place and the history of the exhibition space: Central Tejo. Built in the beginning of the 20th century to supply Lisboa and its surroundings with electricity, the building is a true testimony to the transformation of the beginning of the century, which completely changed the relation the human beings have with the night. In this exhibition, the visitors can go through the night period, from dusk to dawn, passing through several stages.

Lisboa is characterized, among several factors, by its cultural diversity. And the exhibition “Interferências” intends to affirm exactly that characteristic. MAAT is thus transformed into a stage of stories, which give visibility and create a dialogue between works from contemporary artists, who use the streets as an expression context, and works from private, more institutional collections. In a showing which presents pieces from the Centro de Arte Moderna Gulbenkian collection as well as from the Archives of RTP and also from several artists, such as Filipa Bossuet, Petra Preta, ±maismenos±, Onun Trigueiros, the museum privileges the different narrative itineraries, becoming a space for criticism and, at the same time, a meeting place for several communities.

Prisma Vhils

Until 5th September, from Wednesday to Monday, from 11 am to 7 pm, MAAT – Museu de Arte, Arquitetura e Tecnologia, Av. Brasília (train: Cascais line, Belém station | buses: 728, 714, 727, 729, 751 | tram: 15). Tickets: general, 5 euros; students and seniors, 3 euros. More information at: maat.pt

Vhils, artistic name of Alexandre Farto, performs several works of public art at all over the world. Prisma, contrary to his usual works, is an exhibition which resorts exclusively to video and which represents the daily life in nine metropolises: Mexico City, Cincinnati, Hong Kong, Lisboa, Los Angeles, Macau, Paris, Beijing and Shanghai. This is a large-scale installation which provides and immersive experience into a reality of trivial environments and in which the identity of their inhabitants is lost by being manipulated and distorted with space, scale and lighting effects. However, the essence of the spaces can be recovered through critical distancing, in an exercise of contemplation, introspection and reflection.
When you think of Chinese opera do you think of those unique colourful costumes, wigs and makeup? In this exhibition you will be able to see up close all those details which characterize this performative genre. The collection consists of 280 pieces. Between costumes, wigs, headdresses, makeup models, puppets, drawings, paintings and musical instruments, there are also photographs and videos to get to know something which is one of China’s cultural treasures. Although most of the times it is performed without a set, this kind of show, which excludes realism, includes singing, music, speech, mimicry, dance, stunts and even martial arts, as well as many other details that can be seen here.
A bridge with much to tell

The Tejo river separates the north and south shores of Lisboa, dividing the city into two big areas. On the north shore, we find the oldest and historical part of the capital. In an urban landscape, by the river, wrapped in a modern and cosmopolitan rhythm, one can find several equipments and services which provide a unique experience to better get to know the city. The south shore is home to Cristo Rei (Christ the King) and several other tourist equipments, such as Palácio da Cerca or Convento dos Capuchos. It is also the stage for some cultural festivities and festivals, but its biggest attraction are the extensive beaches, which invite you to sink your feet into the sand or to go for a swim.

Ponte 25 de Abril has connected Lisboa’s two shores since August 1966. It is one of the oldest and biggest suspended infrastructures in the European continent. Considered one of the most beautiful in the world and elected, in 2014 by European Best Destination, the most beautiful in Europe, it is little over two kilometres long, is, for the most part,
70 metres above the water surface and is located in the narrowest area of the Tejo estuary. Inaugurated 56 years ago, on 6th August, this bridge has left its mark in the transportation history of Lisboa and in the way the inhabitants and visitors move between both shores. The possibility of such an important crossing over the Tejo had been studied since 1876. Among advantages and disadvantages, several obstacles were met and the infrastructure’s construction plan waited for over 50 years before it was put into action. Dozens of proposals were presented by more than 100 engineering companies. Finally, in 1962, the work began on what looks like a twin of the Golden Gate Bridge, in San Francisco, in the United States, but that, in reality, is mainly inspired by the Bay Bridge, another infrastructure in the same city, which, although it is painted white, is the most similar to the Portuguese one.

More than allowing the crossing of cars between the shores, the bridge, which is now called 25 de Abril as a tribute to the 1974 revolution, also has a railroad connection to the south. Nowadays, the railroad deck, opened a few months prior to the turn of the millennium, transports passengers from Entrecampos to Pragal, with several stops between both shores, aiming at improving Lisboa’s transportation flow. Since its inauguration until today, there is much to know and explore about this bridge, which lead to the creation of an interpretation centre. It is called Experiência Pilar 7 (Pilar 7 Bridge Experience) and is a tourism project which includes a panoramic viewpoint as well as a sensorial, physical and cultural experience for the visitors. Open every day, it can be visited in Alcântara, more exactly by the bridge pillar which gives it its name.

Still outside, the visitors have access to a bit of the project’s history. Already inside, they are lead to the workers’ room, where we find a model of the infrastructure and some 360 degree projections of its construction. From here, we go to an upper room, where the suspension cables are tied, and then to a space which conveys the sensation of vertically climbing Ponte 25 de Abril. The end of the visit reveals the aspect which is often considered the most attractive one: the climb to the panoramic viewpoint located at deck height and offering a unique and truly breathtaking view of Lisboa.

Above the Tejo, between both shores, there is much to explore and to know. Find out for yourself.

To celebrate the 125 years of the artist’s Maria Helena Vieira da Silva birth, the artist Robert Wiley prepared the exhibition “Um hóspede curioso”. Starting from an internal dialogue and from the relationship he establishes with the physical space and the historical record of Vieira da Silva’s production, Robert Wiley created artistic objects. He used different materials which were at the Atelier-House and in the garden, including glass. Although the showing was thought specifically for this occasion, the images which accompany the artistic production allow the visitors to have an idea of the objects, systems and situations which Wiley is currently exploring.

In 30 modules and four big themes, the visitors will be able to experiment present and future activities with and without access to this essential asset, in order to draw everyone’s attention to the importance of saving and using it efficiently.

As the name lets us guess, the ceramic pieces in this showing are made of bones. Teresa Segurado Pavão, the artist and author of the 25 pieces displayed at the High Choir of the Old Madre de Deus Convent, presents works in pure white clay and with transparent glass details which integrate bones gathered in the field and on the beach and attached to some pieces with silver elements. The connection of the materials results in objects wrapped in great spirituality, entering a context of perfect harmony with the baroque space they are set in.

The Museu de Lisboa presents a retrospective of last century’s 20s in the exhibition “The Roaring ‘20s in Lisboa”. Even today, the decade of 1920 is still remembered as a period of transformation in customs and mentalities. Lisboa was not excluded from this movement: modernity, social and individual affirmation were also experienced in the Portuguese capital. In spite of the political and economic instability of the time, Lisboa followed some trends, spreading the novelties and extravagances which arrived through the press, literature, radio and cinema. Thus, this exhibition transports us to that same time period through personal stories and experiences.

Reflections on racism, the status of women in society, the deconstruction of colonial thinking and the decolonization of the arts itself are the themes portrayed in this exhibition, which displays about 60 works, including drawings, paintings, sculptures, installations, photos and films.
