Lisbon and Sintra open doors for another edition of LEFFEST. With 11 films from all corners of the world in the Official Selection In-Competition and 17 in the Official Selection Out-of-Competition, viewers will have the opportunity to watch some of the most anticipated titles of the coming season. The list of retrospectives includes names such as Sérgio Tréfaut, Jim Carrey and an extensive program on the black cinema movement in the United States, “L.A. Rebellion”. In the section “Am I Guilty?” cinematographic works that refer to the question of guilt will be presented, while in the cycle “Romper as Grades”, there will be space for film screenings, a debate, two concerts and a dance show.

The Olhares do Mediterrâneo film festival is full of novelties: more film days, two venues, a 50-year journey through cinema in Lebanon, which is the invited country for this edition, and a special INATEL award for the best Portuguese short film. From 14th to 16th, the festival will be at Cinemateca Portuguesa, exclusively dedicated to films by female Lebanese filmmakers. On the remaining days, it goes on at Cinema São Jorge, with films directed by women coming from or working in all the Mediterranean countries. Among short, medium-length and feature films, the programme foresees the showing of 51 films produced in 26 countries, including Portugal. The festival also has three competitive sections: ‘General Short’, ‘Crossings’ and ‘Beginning to Look’. And there will be two non-competitive sections, namely ‘Showing Longs’ and ‘Looks from Lebanon’.
The Alkantara festival, which continues the work of the project known as Danças na Cidade (‘Dances in the City’), defines itself as an international dance, theatre, performance and encounters festival in the city of Lisboa. In its third edition, it again presents shows and projects which try unconventional approaches, crossing new artistic practices. ‘Sun & Sea’, an opera on the beach, ‘The making of Pinocchio’, a story of love and transition, told through Carlo Collodi’s narrative, and ‘Sacrifice while lost in salted earth’, a journey through the meaning of the word sacrifice, which is based on the Iranian poem ‘Rite of Spring’, are some of the scheduled shows.

Useful Information

Lisboa is the capital of Portugal and the country’s biggest city, located on the estuary of the Tejo river, on the European Atlantic coast. It is continental Europe’s westernmost capital. Portugal’s official language is Portuguese. Derived from Latin roots, Portuguese is the third most spoken European language in the world, with around 200 million speakers.

Around 3 million people live in the Lisboa region, with around 600 thousand living in the capital itself. The Portuguese Constitution allows religious freedom, with various religions being practised in Portugal.

Electric voltage: 230 / 400 volts, on a 50-hertz frequency. The electric sockets adhere to European standards. Blade plugs (US standard) must be used in conjunction with a 230 volts transformer, as well as an adaptor.

In Lisboa winters are mild and summers hot, though moderated by its location near the sea. During spring and autumn there are usually sunny days with mild temperatures.

Local currency and Payments

The Euro is Portugal’s official currency, having been introduced in January 2002. 1 Euro is divided into 100 cents. There are coins of 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 cents and 1 and 2 Euros. The bills can be distinguished by their size and colour and have the following face values: 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500 Euros. In Portugal, payments can be made in cash, bank transfer, cheque, credit cards and debit cards.

Fado

INTANGIBLE HERITAGE OF HUMANITY
The song of Lisboa and the World

Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa’s “soul”. Much more than just a song, Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city’s way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar.

Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city’s heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa’s song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado’s universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amália Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950’s took Lisboa’s song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music.

The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO’s highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says “Silence, Fado is about to be sung”, this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, “a strange form of life” that is being renewed.
Fado Houses
Here visitors can experience the whole atmosphere and rituals associated with Lisboa’s song and listen to this language of emotions. Set in the historic districts of the city such as Alfama, Bairro Alto, Lapa and Alcântara, there are diverse establishments which host regular performances of fado, with resident artists.

Terra - Lisboa
Architecture Triennale 2022

Until 5th December, in several cultural venues in Lisboa. Tickets: depending on the activity. More information at: trienaldelisboa.com

Every three years, the Architecture Triennale fills Lisboa with a forum of debate and cultural promotion around a big topic. This year, ‘Earth’ is the central concept which resulted in four exhibitions, four books, three awards, three days of conferences and a selection of independent projects, which are now being presented. The proposal is to rethink the future, to move towards a new model, which brings a greater balance between communities, resources and processes. Some of the exhibitions are ‘Retroactivar’ (‘Retroactive’), at MAAT, and ‘Visionárias’ (‘Visionairies’), at Culturgest. The first makes visitors reflect on urban space, on how cities are the populations’ present and future and, at the same time, are degraded or marginalized spaces. The latter focuses on visions from people in architecture, in arts, in design or in science.

Misty Fest

Strongly characterized by diversity, artistic and acoustic quality, Misty Fest enters its 13th edition with contemporary award-winning creators. Besides the range of attending artists, such as Rita Vian, Christian Löffler and Detected Ensemble, Joep Beving, Lisa Gerrard and Jules Maxwell, Edu Lobo, Tigran Hamasyan, Joana Serrat and Roger Eno, this edition also includes the Misty Sessions, at Espaço Espelho d’Água. Thus, the festival tries to continue to bring the best music to the best venues, warming up the motors in this intimate way: in a privileged space, which has a room for exhibitions, with the Tejo river for company and concerts specially prepared for these sessions.
Frida Kahlo, the immersive biography

Until 31st December, from Tuesday to Sunday, between 5 pm and 8 pm, Reservatório da Mãe D’Água das Amoreiras, Praça das Amoreiras (metro: Rato | buses: 202, 758, 774, 713 | tram: 24). Tickets: 15 euros, general.

More information at: portugalagenda.com

Frida Kahlo, the immersive biography is more than an exhibition; it is the combination of physical and digital environments which become an immersive and emotional journey through the life of one of the most influential artists of all time. In this 360º multimedia show, there are virtual reality experiences and video mapping in sculptures and holographic animations. The showing is divided in two moments. First, the visitors have the opportunity to go through different artistic installations, among which we can find historical photographs and original films. The second moment is characterized by the 360º audio-visual projection about Frida Kahlo’s personal life.
L-E-V Chapter 3:
The Brutal Journey of the Heart

4th November, at 9 pm, 5th November, at 7 pm, Grande Auditório, Centro Cultural de Belém, Praça do Império (tram: 15 | buses: 714, 727, 728, 729, 751). Tickets: from 21 to 35 euros. More information at: ccb.pt

The acclaimed Israeli dance company founded by Sharon Eyal together with Gai Behar makes its debut in Lisboa to present the last show of the ‘Love Cycle’ trilogy, ‘The Brutal Journey of the Heart’. In this performance, the nine dancers go on an intense journey through the ups and downs of love and relationships. Accompanied by the rhythm of the live soundtrack by Ori Lichtik’s, the pulsating and explosive movements of the bodies use ballet references throughout the choreographies. The costumes evoke tattoos along the bodies, emphasizing the dance’s sensuality.
Sleeping Beauty

27th November, at 5 pm, Coliseu de Lisboa, Rua das Portas de Santo Antão, 96 (metro: Restauradores). Tickets: from 20 to 38 euros. More information at: coliseulisboa.com

The enchanted world of castles, princesses, forests and fairies goes on stage at the Coliseu de Lisboa once again, presented by the Classic Stage company, directed by Evgeniya Bespalova. The ballet, which is divided in prologue and two acts, is characterized by romanticism and lyricism and puts the dancers’ - above all the main character’s - performance to the test. The highlights of this performance also include the scenographic elements, the manufactured props and the music of this classical ballet, which shows elegance and academic style.

Ôss

‘Ôss’ is both the word for ‘bone’ in Creole and a karate expression referring to ideas such as to press, to push or to support. In this performance, created by company Dançando com a diferença - which has been attracting attention for its dissemination of the concept of inclusive dance - and by choreographer Marlene Monteiro - who is known for her creations of poetry and mythological inspiration -, the concept of bone is explored as a keeper of ancient secrets and as a structuring box for soft and fragile parts. In ‘Ôss’ to build a strong skeleton may be a synonym for a foot serving as the heart or the knees playing the part of the liver, since the difference between hard and soft is of little importance.
CONCERTS

Xutos & Pontapés
O Circo de Feras

From 2nd to 4th November, at 9 pm, 5th November, at 5:30 pm and 9 pm, Teatro Tivoli BBVA, Av. da Liberdade, 182-188 (metro: Avenida). Tickets: from 25 to 40 euros.
More information at: teatrotivolibvaa.pt

'Circo de Feras', the album released in the early months of the year 1987, can be considered a milestone in the history of the band, which, around that time, was attracting attention across the country. Today, the iconic band has a vast discography and each work can be seen as an evolutionary milestone in the history of electronic music in Portugal. 35 years later, Xutos & Pontapés decide to present the same album on stage again, this time with exclusively created scenography. The band will include Tim, João Cabeleira, Kalu, Gui and Tó Trips. This being a special occasion, the band decided to invite the audience to see and hear what they called ‘O Circo de Feras’.

Stereolab

More information at: luxfragil.com

The Anglo-French band comes to Lisboa to present its most recent album. ‘Pulse Of The Early Brain’ is the fifth volume of the ‘Switched On’ compilation series. After ten years of inactivity, Lætitia Sadier’s band came together again to perform at NOS Primavera Sound 2019. Three years have gone by and the band which is responsible for the release of records such as ‘Transient Random-Noise Bursts With Announcements’, ‘Emperor Tomato Ketchup’ or ‘Dots and Loops’ presents itself on stage with new sonorities.
Maestro André Rieu and his Johann Strauss Orchestra are back for two rhythm-filled concerts at the Altice Arena. Considered to be one of the biggest ticket-selling phenomena in Portugal, the musician, together with his 60-member orchestra, has already sold out the biggest show room in Lisboa for 19 times. In a romantic but fun environment, André Rieu's concerts are known for the way they make the audience dance and clap to different rhythms, ranging from waltzes to folk, including well-known songs. The party atmosphere is enhanced with balloons, soloists and the maestro's humour.
La Traviata
Ópera

6th November, at 7 pm, Coliseu de Lisboa, Rua das Portas de Santo Antão, 96 (metro: Restauradores). Tickets: from 20 to 50 euros. More information at: coliseulisboa.com

Company Materlirica presents the opera ‘La Traviata’, a tragic romance told in three acts, based on Alexandre Duma’s ‘Lady of the Camellias’. It is a story of love, matches and mismatches between Violet, a tuberculous Parisian courtesan, and Alfredo, a young bourgeois from a provincial family, who falls in love with her. In love, they decide to live together. But Alfredo’s father finds Violet and asks her to stay away from his son, since their relationship is damaging the reputation of the whole family. Giving in to this request, the Parisian leaves Alfredo. Shattered and unaware of the truth, he mistreats her. Later, already very ill, Violet is visited by Alfredo, who, upon learning of her sacrifice, asks for her forgiveness and swears never to leave her again. But it is too late.

Soweto Gospel Choir

25th November, at 9 pm, 26th November, at 4 pm, Centro Cultural de Belém, Praça do Império (tram: 15 | buses: 714, 727, 728, 729, 751). Tickets: from 18 to 37,50 euros. More information at: ccb.pt

The choir composed of some of the best artists in South Africa invites the audience to enjoy African gospel music, through the presentation of the album ‘Freedom’. The joy, the colour, the emotion and the unique harmonies are some of the characteristics of the show the group prepared. The vibrant costumes, the voices and inspiring songs will stand out in the performance. The band will share both traditional and contemporary music, performing in six of the eleven official languages. Besides the hymns, the choir will also present the iconic performances of ‘Amazing Grace’, ‘Hallelujah’ and ‘Freedom Songs Medley’.
Lisboa smells like roasted chestnuts

With the arrival of autumn and cooler weather, the streets of Lisboa are perfumed with a very particular aroma. In the Portuguese gastronomy calendar, November is traditionally the roasted chestnut month. It is by this time that, a bit everywhere, we can see the chestnut roasters with their special carts, in which they keep and roast the fruit of the season.

In several streets of Lisboa, from Baixa to Santa Apolónia, the vendors shout a phrase which is well-known to everyone, ‘hot and good’. This way, they announce to those who are near that a new batch is coming out, attracting passers-by, both through the smell and through the hot smoke.
Sold by half a dozen or by a dozen, the roasted chestnuts bring a cozy feeling to cold hands and to the stomach, both as a starter or dessert, or just as a snack between meals. Or even as a company on a walk to explore the city.

The tradition to sell roasted chestnuts in small mobile carts has been known to the people of Lisboa for many decades. Initially, the vendors would place them in metallic roasters on the burning coal and serve them wrapped in newspaper pages. Today, the used utensils are all made of stainless steel and the chestnuts already have their own small packages, with room for the shells, or are handed over in white paper sheets.

In addition to this custom, we can find others around this time of the year, after the harvest. One example are some alcoholic beverages such as piquette, jeropiga or new wine.

The popular Magusto festivity celebrates St. Martin’s Day, on 11th November. Legend has it that on a cold rainy day, St. Martin cut his cloak in half to share it with a beggar, which resulted in a bright sun coming out. This day is celebrated in several European countries.

In Lisboa, the icons of the festivities are the carts and the roasters who spread the warm and cozy smell of chestnuts through the streets. At the table, some serve them boiled with a touch of fennel or roasted in the oven. These are also usually served with piquette or jeropiga. Piquette is a low-alcohol drink which results from adding water and aguardente to grape pomace. Jeropiga, on the other hand, is prepared with aguardente and grape must, which stops fermentation and results in a beverage with a higher alcohol content than wine. Both were born from popular and rudimentary production recipes, leaving room for improvisation and making it hard to try two which taste exactly the same.

Walk around Lisboa and be sure to try one of autumn’s most typical flavours. Find out for yourself.
CONCERTS

Royal Film Concert Orchestra

20th November, at 5 pm, Coliseu de Lisboa, Rua das Portas de Santo Antão, 96 (metro: Restauradores). Tickets: from 25 to 58 euros. More information at: coliseulisboa.com

Mykki Blanco

On European tour with a new record, 'Stay Close to Me', the North-American rapper and activist Mykki Blanco comes to Lisboa for a single and irreverent concert. This new recently released work includes guest appearances by names such as ANOHNI, Devendra Banhart, Jonsi, MNEK, Saul Williams. Described as a way to release his own sound, the record represents a time of major growth in his musical career.
EXIST/RESIST

Until 6th March 2023, from Wednesday to Monday, from noon to 6 pm, MAAT – Museu de Arte, Arquitetura e Tecnologia, Av. Brasilia (train: Cascais line, Belém station | buses: 728, 714, 727, 729, 751 | tram: 15). Tickets: general, 7 euros. More information at: maat.pt

EXIST/RESIST is the first institutional exhibition by Didier Fiúza Faustino. The French-Portuguese artist, known for the way in which he conceptually distances himself from architecture and design, presents an exhibition which takes its title from two of his works, ‘Exist’, from 2016, and ‘Resist’, from 2017. This showing brings together for the first time a selection of works and prototypes, which range from drawings, to photographs, large-scale installations and objects. Through installations, films, sculptures, editorial projects and temporary architecture, the artist presents the ‘body’ as a measure of individualisation, an economic and political site of struggle.

EVILULATION

Until 11th December, from Wednesday to Sunday, from 2 pm to 8 pm, last entry at 7 pm, Edu Hub Lisbon, Av. Marechal Gomes da Costa, 19 (metro: Chelas, Olivais). Free entry. More information at: eduhublisbon.com

The Portuguese trash art artist, who is known a bit all over the world for his large scale animal sculptures created with all kinds of urban waste, returns to Portugal for a national exhibition. Very concerned about the issues of environmental sustainability and of the negative impact of pollution on nature, Bordalo II creates simple messages to draw attention to this kind of problems, using metal remains, containers, plastic toys, tires, hoses, ropes, marine debris and traffic separators. In EVILUTION, the artist reaches a different level, presenting an exhibition without precedent.
The Roaring ‘20s in Lisboa

Until 11th December, from Tuesday to Sunday, from 10 am to 6 pm, last entry at 5:30 pm, Palácio Pimenta, Museu de Lisboa, Campo Grande (metro: Campo Grande | buses: 701, 717, 735, 736, 738, 747, 750, 755, 767, 778, 783, 796, 798). Tickets: 3 euros. More information at: museudelisboa.pt

The Museu de Lisboa presents a retrospective of last century’s 20s in the exhibition ‘The Roaring ‘20s in Lisboa’. Even today, the decade of 1920 is still remembered as a period of transformation in customs and mentalities. Lisboa was not excluded from this movement: modernity, social and individual affirmation were also experienced in the Portuguese capital. In spite of the political and economic instability of the time, Lisboa followed some trends, spreading the novelties and extravagances which arrived through the press, literature, radio and cinema. Thus, this exhibition transports us to that same time period through personal stories and experiences.

Cyberart
Works from the Itaú Cultural Collection

Until 12th December, from Wednesday to Monday, from 11 am to 7 pm, MAAT – Museu de Arte, Arquitetura e Tecnologia, Av. Brasília (train: Cascais line, Belém station | buses: 728, 714, 727, 729, 751 | tram: 15). Tickets: general, 7 euros; seniors, 6 euros. More information at: maat.pt

Cyberart is an exhibition which mirrors the relationship between technology, culture and art, which is the focus of the work done by Instituto Itaú Cultural. With the objective of bringing this form of artistic expression to the most diverse audiences, the itinerancies of the Art and Technology Collection present a series of works which connect cybernetics to the visitors and to elements of the works themselves. In this exhibition, the audience is invited to reflect on a more poetic and less experimental view of this technological area.
The Portuguese photojournalist, winner of two World Press Photo awards, Mário Cruz, reveals in “Living among what is left behind” the scenario of human survival among the garbage in the Pasig River, without biological life since 1990, in the Philippines. For a month, the photographer followed the lives of thousands of families who make their homes and livelihoods from garbage in a place that was once an economic center, but which is now condemned to be the city’s sewer. The exhibition is made up of large-scale photographs and collages and an installation with tons of rubbish that aims to recreate the scene he observed.

Until December 30, Thursdays and Fridays, from 3 pm to 7 pm, weekends and holidays, from 10 am to 7 pm, former EDP building in Almada, Rua Bernardo Francisco da Costa, Almada (boat: Cais do Sodré – Cacilhas and metro: 1, 3). Free entry. More information at: cm-almada.pt Entitled ‘Abstracto, Branco, Tóxico e Volátil’, the name of one of his pieces dated 1997, this showing gathers a series of works which marked the artist’s career. With works which do not present hypothesis or conclusions, the public is invited to enjoy the textures and the complexity of the compositions, as well as to discover enigmatic and sophisticated images.

The world will continue to not be the way it used to be!

‘O Mundo vai Continuar a não Ser como Era!’ proposes a journey to the last 100 years of advertising in Portugal. It is a selection of works from the Carlos Rocha collection. Before he passed away, Carlos Rocha expressed the wish to donate his collection to MUDE – Museu do Design e da Moda (Design and Fashion Museum). The advertisements cover different subjects: energy, finance, insurance, transports, telecommunications, fuels, electricity, tourism, the pharmaceutical industry or wine. This exhibition, which is part of the MUDE OUTSIDE programme while the museum is closed for works, reveals the evolution and the big socio-cultural, socio-economic and political changes in Portugal’s daily life.
