Useful Information

Lisboa is the capital of Portugal and the country's biggest city, located on the estuary of the Tejo river, on the European Atlantic coast. It is continental Europe's westernmost capital. Portugal's official language is Portuguese. Derived from Latin roots, Portuguese is the third most spoken European language in the world, with around 200 million speakers. Around 3 million people live in the Lisboa region, with around 600 thousand living in the capital itself. The Portuguese Constitution allows religious freedom, with various religions being practised in Portugal.

Electric voltage: 230 / 400 volts, on a 50-hertz frequency. The electric sockets adhere to European standards. Blade plugs (US standard) must be used in conjunction with a 230 volts transformer, as well as an adaptor.

In Lisboa winters are mild and summers hot, though moderated by its location near the sea. During spring and autumn there are usually sunny days with mild temperatures.

Local currency and Payments

The Euro is Portugal's official currency, having been introduced in January 2002. 1 Euro is divided into 100 cents. There are coins of 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 cents and 1 and 2 Euros. The bills can be distinguished by their size and colour and have the following face values: 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500 Euros. In Portugal, payments can be made in cash, bank transfer, cheque, credit cards and debit cards.

The song of Lisboa and the World

Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa’s “soul”. Much more than just a song, Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city’s way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar.

Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city’s heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa’s song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado’s universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amália Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950’s took Lisboa’s song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music.

The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO’s highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says “Silence, Fado is about to be sung”, this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, “a strange form of life” that is being renewed.
Fado Houses

Here visitors can experience the whole atmosphere and rituals associated with Lisboa’s song and listen to this language of emotions. Set in the historic districts of the city such as Alfama, Bairro Alto, Lapa and Alcântara, there are diverse establishments which host regular performances of fado, with resident artists.

Walks, performances, audio guides, reflection sessions or ateliers are some of the experiences one can have in contact with nature in this project. The aim is to raise awareness of the protection of nature, bringing the message to different audiences, from the general public to a more specialized circle, such as scientists, biologists, landscape architects, plastic artists or others.

Kukas. Tribute to Geometry

Until 27th August; from Tuesday to Friday; from 10 am to 1 pm; from 2 pm to 6 pm; Saturdays and Sundays; from 10 am to 2 pm; from 3 pm to 6 pm; Museu Nacional De Arte Contemporânea; Rua Serpa Pinto, 4 (metro: Baixa-Chiado | buses: 60, 208, 758 | tram: 28). Tickets: 4.50 euros. More information at: www.museuartecontemporanea.gov.pt

The exhibition ‘Kukas. Homenagem à Geometria’ is inaugurated on the day that the author of the first renovation of the formal language of jewellery in Portugal turns 95. This showing presents recently created pieces, diverse objects and materials, ranging from necklaces, pendants and brooches, to earrings, cufflinks and bracelets, made of gold, silver, baroque pearls, agate, shells, rock crystal, lapis-lazuli and mother-of-pearl, remodelling the traditions of jewellery with features of contemporaneity. In 1963 Kukas had her first exhibition in Lisboa. Sixty years later, the artist once again presents jewellery as a hybrid art that combines drawing, sculpture, painting, architecture and design.
In ‘Plástico: Reconstruir o Nosso Mundo’ the visitors will find three sections about the origin, the evolution and the possible future of this material. The exhibition does not intend to be anti-plastic, but throughout the sections it reveals the human relationship with these objects and casings, from the way they are made, to how they are used and discarded. The exhibition begins with a videographic installation about the geological condition that makes it possible to manufacture plastic. The second section goes through the history of plastic, from its natural origin to the experimentation with synthetic materials and the third takes stock of the present efforts to rethink plastic, develop alternatives, reduce its production and consumption, as well as encourage its reuse.
Fado: Lisboa’s intangible treasure

‘O fado nasceu um dia...’ (‘Fado was born one day...’) is the beginning of one of the iconic songs of Lisboa’s most characteristic musical rhythm. The word itself is an evolution from the Latin word fatum, which means destiny or prophecy. However, the Fado that characterizes the artistic genre featuring a fado singer accompanied by one or several musicians on the Portuguese guitar cannot be defined, it can only be felt.

There still is no exact year for the beginning of Fado nor concrete data on its true origin. It is known that it developed among the different cultures that existed in Lisboa, which makes it an urban song. One can say that the melody, which would become Lisboa’s musical heritage, was born in popular environments in the 19th century, having been spontaneously but regularly present in the leisure moments of the inhabitants of Lisboa.
Throughout time, the social and cultural context, the typical neighbourhoods and the bohemian character of Lisboa nurtured the cult of these melodies. From the first decades of the 20th century onwards, we can witness a gradual popular dissemination and acclamation of Fado, which results in the tradition of attending shows at particular spaces.

It was among narrow streets and picturesque alleys, in the historical neighbourhoods, such as Alfama, that the fado houses emerged in the second decade of the 20th century. However, it was in the 1930s that they became an inescapable feature of the city’s cultural landscape. The musical style begins to distance itself from improvisation and to force interpreters, authors and musicians to become experts. In the 1950s, Fado knows the unavoidable figure of Amália Rodrigues, who internationalizes it and establishes it as an art form. The rhythm which characterizes Lisboa thus becomes an emblematic artistic expression of Portugal.

Amália Rodrigues was followed by other iconic names. One example is Carlos do Carmo, who was eternalized by ‘Lisboa, menina e moça’, which became the official song of the city of Lisboa immediately after his death, in 2021.

Today, Fado is considered Intangible Heritage of Humanity and the houses devoted to it are rich in stories of those who witnessed its first steps. These are spaces like ‘A Severa’ or ‘O Faia’. These elements, that are inseparable from Portuguese culture and have been active for decades, are places where people breathe and live the spirit of this traditional style. These houses preserve the memory and authenticity of this old song, that has Lisboa in its lyrics and stirs emotions within those who listen to it.

With welcoming, dimly lit interiors and an intimate ambience, the atmosphere is charged with a nostalgic aura, while the sound of the Portuguese guitars and the emotional voices fill the air. In these true artistic refuges, it is possible to witness the skill of the fado singers, who, with their voices full of passion, bring life to the lyrics that sometimes speak of love and other times of suffering.

Much more than a simple song or a sung poem, the lyrics convey a sense of saudade, an untranslatable word which sums up a unique feeling of nostalgia, melancholy and desire. A familiar feeling to those who know Lisboa and its Fado. Discover for yourself.

The exhibition ‘Jorge Barradas no Jardim da Europa’ represents an artistic journey through about 70 works of the Portuguese modernist. This is the biggest exhibition ever made about the artist, gathering works from his 60-year-long career from Museu Nacional de Arte Contemporânea, Instituto de História da Arte of FCSH/NOVA and Fundação Millennium bcp.

The Immersive Dimension

Jorge Marçal da Silva (1878-1929) was a surgeon and amateur photographer. He took his first picture on 12th August 1906, a family portrait on a Sunday afternoon, in the garden of his house in Lisboa. This exhibition gathers about four thousand of this author’s pictures on a gelatine and silver support on glass, highlighting his photographic production in terms of stereoscopy. It reveals the ‘photographic trends’ of the time, among family and friends, intangible heritage, constructions and nature, strolls and travels. Today, these pictures can be seen through historical and modern devices and it is also possible to observe prints of the time, record books of his photographs and other personal objects.

Until 31st August; from Monday to Friday; from 10 am to 6 pm; Arquivo Fotográfico; Rua da Palma, 246 (metro: Martim Moniz | buses: 208, 708, 734 | trams: 12E, 28E). Free entry. More information at: arquivomunicipal.lisboa.pt

Miniature City
Model by fireman
Luís Pereira de Carvalho

Until 3rd September; from Tuesday to Sunday; from 10 am to 6 pm; Museu de Lisboa; Palácio Pimenta; Campo Grande, 245 (metro: Campo Grande | buses: 701, 717, 731, 735, 736, 738, 747, 750, 755, 767, 778, 783, 796, 798). Tickets: 3 euros. More information at: museudelisboa.pt

Over 26 years, Luís Caetano Pereira de Carvalho built the centre piece of the exhibition ‘Cidade-Miniatura’, which the museum team affectionately calls ‘the fireman’s model’. The meticulous work made in polychrome wood is 2,21 meters long and 0,89 meters wide, in a 1:1000 scale. This model represents Lisboa in the first decades of the 20th century. It represents all the carefully studied buildings which were created with the characteristics and colours of the time, revealing the evolution of the city and the changes time has brought about since then.

On the Path of Oriental Fans

Since its introduction in the west, the fan has become an object of fascination in which powerful social and cultural messages converge: luxury, exoticism, status and power. ‘Na Senda dos Leques Orientais’ presents 180 pieces that trace the history, characteristics and uses of the Chinese fan in Europe from the 16th century onwards. The exhibition features rare specimens, various objects of painting, sculpture, photography and porcelain, as well as graphic documents that illustrate their usefulness. This showing recreates the history of the fan, from its origin and manufacturing processes to its functions in different contexts.
EXHIBITIONS

In Brute: Touching Relationships

Until 10th September; from Tuesday to Sunday; from 10 am to 7 pm; last entry at 6:30 pm; Museu CCB; Praça do Império (buses: 28, 714, 727, 729, 751 | tram: 15 | train: Cascais line; station: Belém). Tickets: 5 euros, general. More information at: ccb.pt

The exhibition ‘Em Bruto: Relações Comoventes’ is a large installation which adapts itself to the place where it is presented. From Fundación Cerezales Antonino y Cinia de Léon, in Spain, to CCB, the artistic structure starts from beams, trestles and joists that summon notions of spatial reconstruction and reconfiguration. The set created is therefore as much physical as a reflection on architecture, the city, space and modernity. For this reason, the exhibition includes a reading room, where it is possible to consult books mentioned in the installation, and an introductory room to the new piece, composed of a series of elements that the author, Fernanda Fragateiro, has called Materials Lab.

Starting from a parallelism with the travels narrated by Júlio Verne, this exhibition proposes a visit to the MIAM – Musée International des Arts Modestes, founded by Hervé Di Rosa and Bernard Belluc, through a vast selection of works gathered over more than 40 years. From comics to commercial art, not forgetting traditional or naïve art, art brut, psychedelia and the cinema, there is much to see.

15 euros, general; 12 euros, students and seniors. More information at: urbanrevolution.pt

Urban [R]evolution is the largest national urban art exhibition. With a big dimension, diversity and experience component, it brings together 18 Portuguese and foreign artists under the curatorship of Pauline Foessel and Pedro Alonzo. Original installations tell the story of the urban art development, from its initial phase, in the form of graffiti and paintings in the metro, until the renowned street art. The different exhibition cores had the direct intervention of each artist during the assembly process. Various immersive areas were created exclusively for this showing, transforming the Cordoaria into a space that reflects the different styles and techniques which have evolved since the beginning of urban art until today.
Vita Prima. Santo António em Portugal is intended to be a journey through the life of the young Fernando de Bulhões.
