DOCLISBOA

EXHIBITIONS  MUSIC  DANCE  MONUMENTS
An epic story that ends at the table.
This year, the World Music gathering which is considered to be the biggest one worldwide takes place in Lisboa and promises to take the audience on a musical trip for five days. Meant for music professionals, Womex presents a space for debate, interaction and the exploration of new ideas, formats and trends. Here people share opinions, criticism and knowledge in order to boost musical economy on an international, national and regional level. For five days there will be live music from all around the world, conferences, films based on music and also an award ceremony on the last day of the event.
DocLisboa

From 6th to 16th October, Culturgest, Rua Arco do Cego (metro: Campo Pequeno); Cinema São Jorge, Cinemateca Portuguesa, Av. da Liberdade (metro: Avenida) and Cinema Ideal, Rua do Loreto, 15 (trams: 24E, 28E). Tickets: 4,50 euros, general.

More information at: doclisboa.org

The 20th edition of DocLisboa brings the topic ‘A questão colonial’ (‘The colonial question’) to the big screen. This year, the festival will be about the Portuguese and French colonial period, proposing a film cycle about the several protagonists of these wars. In addition to the main topic, other sections will be presented. The section ‘Da Terra à Lua’ (‘From the Earth to the Moon’) builds bridges between history and the future. Here we will be able to see political films, which deal with climate change as well as with the governmental panorama in Brazil. Dance, literature and music are also a part of DocLisboa in the section ‘Heart Beat’, which is a representation of the art world.
OUT.FEST
International Exploratory Music Festival of Barreiro

From 5th to 8th October, in several cultural venues in Barreiro (boat: Cais do Sodré). Tickets: from 8 to 15 euros. More information at: outfest.pt

OUT.FEST again temporarily brings music and shows to several venues in the city of Barreiro. The line-up will be the biggest in the history of the festival; besides the 30 confirmed artists, the sound installation ‘A Segunda Natureza’ (‘Second Nature’) will also be presented. A show at the historical locomotive workshop of the company Comboios de Portugal is scheduled for the opening of the festival. Over the several days, we can also count on two after parties and several concerts covering different genres and times. Some national premieres are joined by jazz flautist Nicole Mitchell, the duo Burnt Friedman & João Pais Filipe, pianist Eve Risser, the group Má Estrela, lead by saxophonist Pedro Alves Sousa, and also footwork pioneer RP Boo.

Temps d’ Images

From 8th October, in several venues in the city. Tickets: depending on the activity. More information at: tempsdimages-portugal.com

Theatre, dance and music are part of the 20th edition of Moment II of the Temps d’ Images festival. In total, there are ten projects which connect live art and visual image. This festival will present performances such as ‘Tratado da Invenção das Coisas’ (‘Treaty on the Invention of Things’), by Daniel Moutinho, a piece about his body, in which the artist tries to create a living encyclopaedia of his understanding of things, and ‘Se te portares bem vamos ao McD  lds’ (‘If you behave, we’ll go to McD  lds’), by Mário Coelho, which expresses the possibility of anyone being recruited to obey the wishes or dreams of someone else. The dance shows will include the presentation of ‘Paisagem’ (‘Landscape’), by Rodrigo Teixeira and João Cristovão Leitão, which has violence as the protagonist, and ‘La Burla’, by Bruno Brandolino and Bíbi Dória, a choreographic fiction which accompanies two figures in a dystopian reality. This edition also includes the exhibition ‘Sufocada em Lágrimas’ (‘Suffocated in Tears’), by Eunice Duarte.
The French Film Festival returns to Lisboa’s movie theatres with a schedule continuing throughout the month of November. The programme invites the audience to see unreleased previews and films which are given a new opportunity of being shown on the big screen. It also includes a programme for children and youth, which makes this festival an event for the whole family. One of the novelties in this edition is the section dedicated to gastronomy and meetings with filmmakers. In November, the schedule continues at Cinemateca Portuguesa with a cycle honouring filmmaker Louis Malle. The French Film Festival is also part of the Portugal-France Season 2022, in a celebration of the historical bonds of friendship which unite the two countries.

Useful Information

Lisboa is the capital of Portugal and the country's biggest city, located on the estuary of the Tejo river, on the European Atlantic coast. It is continental Europe's westernmost capital. Portugal's official language is Portuguese. Derived from Latin roots, Portuguese is the third most spoken European language in the world, with around 200 million speakers. Around 3 million people live in the Lisboa region, with around 600 thousand living in the capital itself. The Portuguese Constitution allows religious freedom, with various religions being practised in Portugal.

Electric voltage: 230 / 400 volts, on a 50-hertz frequency. The electric sockets adhere to European standards. Blade plugs (US standard) must be used in conjunction with a 230 volts transformer, as well as an adaptor.

In Lisboa winters are mild and summers hot, though moderated by its location near the sea. During spring and autumn there are usually sunny days with mild temperatures.

Local currency and Payments

The Euro is Portugal's official currency, having been introduced in January 2002. 1 Euro is divided into 100 cents. There are coins of 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 cents and 1 and 2 Euros. The bills can be distinguished by their size and colour and have the following face values: 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500 Euros. In Portugal, payments can be made in cash, bank transfer, cheque, credit cards and debit cards.

Fado
INTANGIBLE HERITAGE OF HUMANITY
The song of Lisboa and the World

Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa’s “soul”. Much more than just a song, Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city’s way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar.

Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city’s heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa’s song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado’s universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amália Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950’s took Lisboa’s song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music. The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO’s highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says “Silence, Fado is about to be sung”, this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, “a strange form of life” that is being renewed.
Fado Houses
Here visitors can experience the whole atmosphere and rituals associated with Lisboa’s song and listen to this language of emotions. Set in the historic districts of the city such as Alfama, Bairro Alto, Lapa and Alcântara, there are diverse establishments which host regular performances of fado, with resident artists.

Lisboa Architecture Triennale 2022

Until 5th December, in several cultural venues in Lisboa. Tickets: depending on the activity. More information at: trienaldelisboa.com

Every three years, the Architecture Triennale fills Lisboa with a forum of debate and cultural promotion around a big topic. This year, ‘Earth’ is the central concept which resulted in four exhibitions, four books, three awards, three days of conferences and a selection of independent projects, which are now being presented. The proposal is to rethink the future, to move towards a new model, which brings a greater balance between communities, resources and processes. Some of the exhibitions are ‘Retroactivar’ (‘Retroactive’), at MAAT, and ‘Visionárias’ (‘Visionairies’), at Culturgest. The first makes visitors reflect on urban space, on how cities are the populations’ present and future and, at the same time, are degraded or marginalized spaces. The latter focuses on visions from people in architecture, in arts, in design or in science.
João Donato and his trio

10th October, at 9 pm, Teatro Tivoli BBVA, Av. da Liberdade, 182-188 (metro: Avenida).
Tickets: from 20 to 36 euros. More information at: teatrotivolibbva.pt

João Donato, one of the creators of the musical style we now call bossa nova, is a composer, pianist and producer, but above all he is considered to be one of the most talented Brazilian musicians. About to turn 80, the musician performs in Lisboa, sharing the stage with drummer Renato Massa, double bassist Guto Wirti as well as saxophonist and flautist Ricardo Pontes. In a concert to the sound of bossa nova and of the unmistakable arrangements of João Donato’s piano, there will also be room for the special appearance of Portuguese Fado singer Carminho.
Swedish House Mafia

More information at: arena.altice.pt

The Paradise Again World Tour brings the supergroup Swedish House Mafia to Lisboa. ‘It Gets Better’ and ‘Lifetime feat. Ty Dolla $ign & O7O Shake’ are two of the already released new singles that will be included in the band’s new studio album, ‘Paradise Again’, which is to be released in the beginning of next year. The trio consisting of Axwell, Steve Angello and Sebastian Ingrosso is also nominated for Best Electronic and Best Nordic Act at the MTV EMAs.

The Black Crowes

19th October, at 8 pm, Campo Pequeno (metro: Campo Pequeno). Tickets: from 24 to 39 euros. More information at: campopequeno.pt

Brothers Chris and Rich Robinson meet the Portuguese fans once again during their European tour, which celebrates the 30th anniversary of the platinum debut album, ‘Shake Your Money Maker’. Today, the band The Black Crowes has already released eight studio and four live albums, having sold millions of records and performed on stages all around the world. The band will be playing songs like ‘Jealous Again’, ‘Twice As Hard’, ‘She Talks To Angels’ and ‘Hard To Handle’, which were big hits in the ‘90s.
Circuit des Yeux

-\textit{io}

19th October, at 9 pm, Culturgest, Rua Arco do Cego, 50 (metro: Campo Pequeno). Tickets: 16 euros. More information at: culturgest.pt

Circuit des Yeux, Haley Fohr’s alter ego, presents her recent album named -\textit{io}. During the pandemic, the singer and composer found herself locked in a world within another world. A place where everything is ending all the time and which she called -\textit{io}. Between the piano, the organ and her voice, Haley Fohr leads the audience through black holes and gravitational forces which are translated into metaphors about death. But, also having death as a symbol of change and rebirth, the artist has broadened horizons, creating an impressive song set.

Manuel Linhares

Suspenso

26th October, at 10:30 pm and at midnight, Hot Club Lisboa, Praça da Alegria, 48 (metro: Avenida). Free entry. More information at: hcp.pt

Manuel Linhares will present his most recent work on the welcoming stage of Hot Club Lisboa. 'Suspenso' is an album produced among musicians from the national and international scene and includes several participations, such as Brazilian multi-instrumentalist António Loureiro, pianist Paulo Barros, double bassist José Carlos Barbosa, the special participation of Coreto Porta-Jazz, American saxophonist David Binney as well as Brazilians Frederico Heliodoro and Rubinho Antunes.
Wolf Alice go on stage for a live presentation of their album ‘Blue Weekend’. Released in 2021, the most recent work by the British band resulted from the ‘break’ Ellie Rowsell, Joff Oddie, Theo Ellis and Joel Amey took at an Airbnb in Somerset to rediscover themselves as a band away from the fast pace of life on tour. In this period they had the opportunity to strengthen friendships and start working on demos which became this new album produced by Markus Dravs. ‘Blue Weekend’ thus reveals itself as a more refined sound trajectory, which includes Ellie Rowsell’s personal narrative.
Zoo Story

From 6th to 23rd October, from Wednesday to Saturday, at 7:30 pm; Sunday, at 4:30 pm, Teatro Nacional D. Maria II, Praça Dom Pedro IV (metro: Rossio | buses: 207, 732, 736, 746, 783). Tickets: 11 euros. More information at: tndm.pt

Albee's work represents a meeting between the characters Peter and Jerry, two men who seek communication dispensing with dialogue. From here on, it is no longer one character searching for the other, but rather an audience seeking for a connection to the play unfolding before its eyes. In Zoo Story, the spoken words are replaced by gestures and the theatre is transformed into a space where diversity is acknowledged and meetings are facilitated. Deaths? Just Jerry's, at the end. All the rest is future.
The art of tap dancing invades the stage of Teatro Tivoli BBVA once again. After the debut in 2012, Tap Factory return from their tour throughout Europe and South America for a show in which drums and frantic feet set the rhythm, with much humour and creativity. The group, created by dancer and choreographer Vincent Pausanias and directed together with Gilles Guenat and Jérémie Champagne, also stands out for its acrobatics and combined forces.

14th October, at 9 pm, 15th October, at 4 pm and 9 pm, Teatro Tivoli BBVA, Av. da Liberdade, 182-188 (metro: Avenida).
Tickets: from 15 to 35 euros. More information at: teatrotivolibbva.pt
The Portuguese trash art artist, who is known a bit all over the world for his large scale animal sculptures created with all kinds of urban waste, returns to Portugal for a national exhibition. Very concerned about the issues of environmental sustainability and of the negative impact of pollution on nature, Bordalo II creates simple messages to draw attention to this kind of problems, using metal remains, containers, plastic toys, tires, hoses, ropes, marine debris and traffic separators. In EVILUTION, the artist reaches a different level, presenting an exhibition without precedent.

EVILUTION

From 8th October, from Wednesday to Sunday, from 2 pm to 8 pm, last entry at 7 pm, Edu Hub Lisbon, Av. Marechal Gomes da Costa, 19 (metro: Chelas, Olivais). Free entry. More information at: eduhublisbon.com
Where does Lisboa’s water take us

Although, today, turning on a tap to fill a glass with water is a simple gesture which is accessible to anyone, the history of this resource in the capital was not always linear. In some periods of history, water and its recurrent scarcity have, from time to time, been a problem for those who lived on the seven hills. There is even a surviving legend which says that it was thanks to the lack of supply that king D. Afonso Henriques was able to conquer the city from the Moors in 1147.

To bring water to the populations, it was necessary to install fountains and promote professions like the one of the water carriers, who transported it in barrels to people’s homes. The drought problems and the difficulties in supplying the people from Lisboa diminished from 1731 on with the construction of the Aqueduto das Águas Livres (Aqueduct of the Free Waters).
Built by order of King D. João V, this monument collected and transported water from the Águas Livres spring, in Belas, a village near the city. Its opening allowed for the expansion of the distribution network and many of those fountains can still be seen in Lisboa today.

Water began to be distributed through five underground galleries: Loreto, Campo de Santana, Necessidades, Rato and Esperança. The infrastructure was not damaged in any way by the earthquake in 1755 and it was completed and concluded in 1799. It has 127 arches and extends for 58 kilometres, which are divided in two parts: 14 kilometres of main aqueduct and 44 kilometres of secondary aqueducts. The over 900 metres we can see include the biggest pointed stone arch in the world.

The reservoir which collects the water coming from the aqueduct is called Mãe d'Água (Mother Water). The spring water is stored here, pouring from a dolphin’s mouth over a stone waterfall. The room owes its spaciousness to the four columns that support the vaulted ceiling, which, at top of the towers, has the Amoreiras 360° Panoramic View, a viewpoint located in one of the highest spots which offers an unparalleled view over Lisboa.

If we follow the water path, we get to the Reservatório da Patriarcal (Patriarchal Reservoir), one of the first to be built and which is now hidden underneath the Príncipe Real Garden. Its octagonal shape is similar to the design of the lake we can find in the garden, some metres above. The water path also leads us to the Estação Elevatória a Vapor dos Barbadinhos (Barbadinhos Steam Pumping Station). This station was responsible for the domestic distribution and operated until 1928. The building consisted of three sections: a section for storing the coal, which was necessary to operate the steam machines, a second section for the machines and another area for the pumps. Today it has been turned into a museum, where the different used mechanisms are exhibited.

From 1930 on, the supply system began to be improved and expanded. Nowadays, the way water reaches Lisboa is different, but the efforts to supply this resource have left a legacy in the city’s history and architecture which is worth knowing. Find out for yourself.

Self-portraits and other matters

Until 23rd October, from Tuesday to Sunday, from 10 am to 1 pm and from 2 pm to 6 pm, Centro Cultural de Cascais, Av. Rei Humberto II de Itália, 16 (train: Cascais and bus M27). Tickets: 5 euros. More information at: fundacaodoluis.pt

Centro Cultural de Cascais, more exactly the Chapel space, receives a series of 25 drawings from the exhibition ‘Autorretratos e outros assuntos’, by the young artist Ricardo Marcelino. Using techniques from oil and charcoal painting, both on canvas and on paper, the paintings presented here capture moments from the artist’s childhood, as well as idealizations of reality and landscape organizations. Between self-portraits, portraits and landscapes of Cascais, Ricardo Marcelino proposes, as he himself puts it, to translate the objective character of a distinct and perfectly distorted world with the intention of showing the potentiality of the poetic act, the creative act.

20 years of euro in your pocket

Until 30th October, from Wednesday to Sunday, from 10 am to 6 pm, last entry at 5:30 pm, Museu do Dinheiro, Largo de São Julião (buses: 206, 210, 706, 728, 735, 774, 781, 782). Free entry. More information at: museudodinheiro.pt

In 2022, we celebrate 20 years since the euro started to circulate. Banks, ATMs, retailers and the public in general were stocked, but on the first day of the year, in 2002, Portugal witnessed a huge turnout to exchange bills and coins, which created long lines a bit all over the country. There was a whole preparation process prior to the moment of the currency exchange. The production of euro bills started in July 1999 in 15 factories throughout Europe. One of them was the Portuguese VALORA. In this exhibition you can find out more about the euro, which is the world’s second most used currency.
Under the Skin

Until 6th November, every day, from 10 am to 6:30 pm, Museu Coleção Berardo, Praça do Império (train: Cascais line, Belém station | buses: 729, 714, 727, 728, 751 | tram: 15). Tickets: from Sunday to Friday, 5 euros; Saturday, free entry. More information at: museuberardo.pt

Miguel Telles da Gama, author of the exhibition ‘Debaixo da Pele’, shows the visitors that, although (almost) everything has already been invented, there are still stories to be told. Thus, he presents a new work, full of fragments from his earlier works. The artist wants to convey the message that there is still much to be said. Starting from the images, the words and the colours, each work randomly brings together fragments of stories which never come to an end, among graphics and pictures or even film images; in these works, fragments are sometimes covered by words or by colour smudges which transform them or give them new meaning.

The horizon is the middle

Until 11th November, from Thursday to Saturday, from 3 pm to 5:30 pm, Galeria Liminare, Alameda das Linhas de Torres, 156 (metro: Quinta das Conchas). Free entry. More information at: www.fcsh.unl.pt/eventos

‘O horizonte é o meio’ is an exhibition by six artists: Carla Rebelo, Dalila Gonçalves, Desali, Diogo Evangelista, Gonçalo Preto and Henrique Biatto. In this showing, the horizon is the starting point to build new possibilities – a journey to the invisible, an intimate dialogue, the line which guides action and the creation of fictional places. Basically, the horizon line is the starting point to connect disciplines and to bring artistic practice and the future to discussion.
The world will continue to not be the way it used to be!

‘O Mundo vai Continuar a não Ser como Era!’ proposes a journey to the last 100 years of advertising in Portugal. It is a selection of works from the Carlos Rocha collection. Before he passed away, Carlos Rocha expressed the wish to donate his collection to MUDE – Museu do Design e da Moda (Design and Fashion Museum). The advertisements cover different subjects: energy, finance, insurance, transports, telecommunications, fuels, electricity, tourism, the pharmaceutical industry or wine. This exhibition, which is part of the MUDE OUTSIDE programme while the museum is closed for works, reveals the evolution and the big socio-cultural, socio-economic and political changes in Portugal’s daily life.

Until 25th November, from Tuesday to Sunday, from 11 am to 6 pm, IDB Lisbon, Praça José Queirós, 1 (metro: Moscavide | buses: 208, 210, 705, 725, 759, 728, 782). Free entry. More information at: mude.pt

The exhibition consists of full-size reproductions of some of the murals created between 2000 and 2018 by the mysterious artist. A reproduction of the hotel with the ‘worst view in the world’, the iconic room at the Walled Off Hotel decorated with a war graffiti of an Israeli soldier and a Palestinian protestor; ‘Girl with balloon’, the image of the girl who tries to catch or lets go a red heart-shaped balloon, or ‘Rage, the Flower Thrower’, a man throwing not a Molotov cocktail, but a flower bouquet in a conflict area, are some of the works presented in this showing.

The Roaring ‘20s in Lisboa

Until 11th December, from Tuesday to Sunday, from 10 am to 6 pm, last entry at 5:30 pm, Palácio Pimenta, Museu de Lisboa, Campo Grande (metro: Campo Grande | buses: 701, 717, 735, 736, 738, 747, 750, 755, 767, 778, 783, 796, 798). Tickets: 3 euros. More information at: museudelisboa.pt

The Museu de Lisboa presents a retrospective of last century’s 20s in the exhibition ‘The Roaring ‘20s in Lisboa’. Even today, the decade of 1920 is still remembered as a period of transformation in customs and mentalities. Lisboa was not excluded from this movement: modernity, social and individual affirmation were also experienced in the Portuguese capital. In spite of the political and economic instability of the time, Lisboa followed some trends, spreading the novelties and extravagances which arrived through the press, literature, radio and cinema. Thus, this exhibition transports us to that same time period through personal stories and experiences.

From the altar to the street
Saint Anthony in the ceramics of Delfim Manuel

Delfim Manuel, a Portuguese ceramist with several recognitions and national awards, dedicates an exhibition to the saint from the city of Lisbon. The artist exhibits 13 pieces which were exclusively created for this showing. The craftsman stands out for the way in which he handles the clay and the expertise and gentleness he puts into the pieces he creates. Every year he creates a new image dedicated to the saint, which he produces in small numbered series. And in the exhibition ‘Do altar para a rua’, besides the new pieces, it is possible to see more than 20 others which were created since 1996.
