His repertoire travels between contemporary rhythms, piano solos and the electronic beat of Portuguese composers or those with a connection to Portugal. Portugal from Inside Out, as it is entitled, is a concert featuring music by Portuguese artists Jorge Peixinho, Sérgio Azevedo, Carlos Caires, Andreia Pinto-Correia, Eduardo Luis Patriarca and Diogo Alvim, as well as Timothy Ernest Johnson and Larry Axelrod himself, both Chicago artists who have settled in Portugal.
Fidelio
Choir of the São Carlos National Theatre and Portuguese Symphony Orchestra

21st January; at 4 pm; 23rd January; at 8 pm; Grande Auditório do Centro Cultural de Belém; Praça do Império
More information at: ccb.pt

Fidelio is Beethoven’s first and only opera. Staged by Georges Delnon and with musical direction by Graeme Jenkins, it is a love story characterised by strong revolutionary ideals and perfectly suited to the musician’s personality and ideology. This work was intended to be a new version of Leonore’s story. Fidelio portrays a young nobleman, a defender of freedom, who is imprisoned and a faithful and courageous woman who poses as a man to save him from death. In the meantime, a minister makes justice prevail by freeing all political prisoners. This work was born at the time Vienna was occupied by Napoleon’s troops and was performed only a few times during that period. It wasn’t until 1814, after a substantial revision of the opera, that it was able to be received with the success it still enjoys today.

Useful Information

Lisboa is the capital of Portugal and the country’s biggest city, located on the estuary of the Tejo river, on the European Atlantic coast. It is continental Europe’s westernmost capital. Portugal’s official language is Portuguese. Derived from Latin roots, Portuguese is the third most spoken European language in the world, with around 200 million speakers. Around 3 million people live in the Lisboa region, with around 600 thousand living in the capital itself. The Portuguese Constitution allows religious freedom, with various religions being practised in Portugal.

Electric voltage: 230 / 400 volts, on a 50-hertz frequency. The electric sockets adhere to European standards. Blade plugs (US standard) must be used in conjunction with a 230 volts transformer, as well as an adaptor.

In Lisboa winters are mild and summers hot, though moderated by its location near the sea. During spring and autumn there are usually sunny days with mild temperatures.

Local currency and Payments

The Euro is Portugal’s official currency, having been introduced in January 2002. 1 Euro is divided into 100 cents. There are coins of 1, 2, 5, 10, 20 and 50 cents and 1 and 2 Euros. The bills can be distinguished by their size and colour and have the following face values: 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500 Euros. In Portugal, payments can be made in cash, bank transfer, check, credit cards and debit cards.

GISELA
10 YEARS

20th January; at 9 pm; 8Marvila; Armazéns Abel Pereira da Fonseca; Praça David Leandro da Silva

Fado singer Gisela João is celebrating 10 years of her career at a new cultural venue in Marvila. In this show, she will revisit the album that revealed her as an artist. Above all, Gisela wants to thank and celebrate with her audience and fans. She reveals that she wants to ’move back into Mariquinhas house’, but move all the furniture around and dance ‘viras and malhões’ (Portuguese folk dances). The party will include guests and surprises on stage, artists she has played with, people who have dressed her and photographed her, who have danced to her songs, or who have simply held her hand. The night is expected to be unique and challenging because the artist is not looking for nostalgia or the sound used in 2013; that has already been done and Gisela doesn’t want to repeat herself.

Fado

INTANGIBLE HERITAGE OF HUMANITY
The song of Lisboa and the World

Classified as Intangible Cultural Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO since November 2011, Fado is the purest expression of Lisboa’s "soul". Much more than just a song, Fado is a musical manifestation of feeling Portuguese and a city’s way of life, always accompanied by the solemn and melancholy chords of the Portuguese guitar.

Considered a brand inseparable from the culture and tradition of the Portuguese capital, Fado has been for at least two centuries, part of the city’s heritage that endowed it with soul and voice. But since influences from overseas, and from various cultures which arrived in Lisboa can also be heard in Fado, Lisboa’s song is now deservedly a shared heritage with the world. Inspired from a simple and sentimental language, Fado’s universal character surpasses all barriers and is now enjoyed by millions of fans worldwide. This internationalization of Fado is greatly due to the charisma and the voice of Amália Rodrigues, the most renowned fado singer of all time, who from the 1950’s took Lisboa’s song to the most prestigious venues, from Russia to Japan. More recently, a new generation of singers of this genre has given the song a new vitality, placing it in the circuits of World Music.

The ultimate international recognition of Fado comes with UNESCO’s highest recognition, whose award of the Intangible Heritage of Humanity title makes this a perfect example of how a centuries-old tradition of a city becomes the identity symbol of a people. Therefore, whenever the lights are dimmed in a fado house and someone says "Silence, Fado is about to be sung", this is not just a ritual that is being performed. It is, as Amália Rodrigues would say, "a strange form of life" that is being renewed.
Fado Houses
Here visitors can experience the whole atmosphere and rituals associated with Lisboa’s song and listen to this language of emotions. Set in the historic districts of the city such as Alfama, Bairro Alto, Lapa and Alcântara, there are diverse establishments which host regular performances of fado, with resident artists.

This event presents the best of language, cinema, literature and music from countries such as Germany, Austria, Luxembourg and Switzerland. The current panorama of German-language cinema sets the tone for the opening of this festival, not without passing through the dreams of Kafka or the Brothers Grimm. The music couldn't be missed and to showcase Berlin's electronic music, Portuguese and German artists take to the stage. The scheduled activities also include fun and entertaining moments for everyone who wants to learn German.

The world’s most famous ballet, Swan Lake - the story of an impossible love between Prince Siegfried and Odette, a young woman transformed into a swan by the sorcerer Von Rothbart, enchants and warms everyone’s hearts in the first month of the year, invoking beauty and romance. On stage, with choreography by Marius Petipa and to the sound of Piotr Tchaikovsky’s iconic melodies, love, betrayal and the triumph of good over evil are presented in a work that demands dexterity and high technical quality in the interpretation of the characters, as well as a high degree of drama in the performance of the lead dancer.
Dancing at the Station

To brighten up January, one of Lisboa’s most popular train stations proposes a get-together through movement to the sound of music. The aim is to get all passers-by and onlookers to dance the Balboa, an intimate style with an elegant posture. Dedicated to those who know how to dance and those who don’t, the aim is to get into the spirit and learn the exciting games of legs and feet that this type of dance proposes. After the open Balboa class, there will be a Blues & Swing moment to keep the rhythm going and the good humour invoked by the artistic movements.

Forever Tango

19th January; at 9 pm; 20th January; at 4 pm and 9 pm; 21st January; at 4 pm; Teatro Tivoli BBVA; Av. da Liberdade, 182-188 (metro: Avenida). Tickets: from 20 to 40 euros. More information at: teatrotivolibba.pt

Renowned cellist Luís Bravo has toured the world with his show Forever Tango, a style of movement that in his opinion translates as ‘a feeling that can be danced’. The show tells the story of Tango’s origins. Originating in Argentinian brothels, where immigrants from different parts of the world would gather at the end of a hard day’s work, this style of dance was initially considered indecent and inappropriate. It was in Parisian salons that this rhythm, brought by Argentine intellectuals, gained glamour and appreciation. Now it is considered one of the most famous styles of our time and it was recognised as Intangible Heritage of Humanity in 2009.

The Ants

11th January; at 9 pm; Chapitô; Rua Costa do Castelo, 1 (bus:737). Tickets: 12 euros. More information at: chapito.org

‘As Formigas’ is the latest collective creation by Companhia Chapitô and brings to the stage a repudiation of war and dehumanisation, the result of the reality we have witnessed in various parts of the world. The performance portrays a scenario of combatants living in a city surrounded by the violence of war, which challenges their humanity. Exposed to cold, mud, hunger and death, these combatants search for a fragile normality while questioning the meaning of their existence in a world at the mercy of war’s irrationality.
The play O Meu Amigo H. is based on the drama My Friend Hitler, by Japanese writer Yukio Mishima. In this play, Albano Jerónimo and Cláudia Lucas Chéu move away from its historical context and Nazi iconography, but don’t avoid the cold, problematic text wrapped in the poetry of violence and death. In turn, they give it a new opportunity to be presented on stage and to become a space for debating the intolerance and resentment that are felt in our democracies. An opportunity to think about destruction, prohibition, reckoning and to stand in front of a mirror created by Mishima, which reveals itself to be a true kaleidoscope of social, political and human life.
Papier & Terre Mêlée

Until February 2024; opening hours and entry by appointment; OJO Galley; Galeria de Arte Contemporânea; Rua de São Bernardo, 9 (buses: 709, 713, 720, 738). More information at: www.ojogallery.com

Papier & Terre Mêlée is an exhibition that reveals a careful selection of pieces in different formats, materials and explorations with a focus on architectural contours and earthy tones. Inspired by the infinite possibilities that various mediums offer to his creative process, Victor Marqué states that "all materials" bring him "a different approach". The exhibition brings together drawings, canvases and ceramic sculptures with more utilitarian pieces, such as appliqués, door handles or tiles, all designed on purpose.
EXHIBITIONS

The Surrealist Castle of Mário Cesariny

Until 19th February 2024; from Wednesday to Monday; from 10 am to 7 pm; MAAT – Museu de Arte, Arquitetura e Tecnologia, Av. Brasília (train: Cascais line, Belém station | buses: 728, 714, 727, 729, 751 | tram: 15). Tickets: general, 11 euros. More information at: maat.pt

‘O Castelo Surrealista de Mário Cesariny’ is an exhibition that celebrates the centenary of the most important figure in Portuguese surrealism. It is inspired by the book that Cesariny dedicated to the life and work of Vieira da Silva and Árpád Szenes and which title gets its inspiration from the first surrealist manifest by André Breton. The exhibition tried to pay tribute to his life and his poetic and plastic work in the context of the disparate times and works that Cesariny claimed as a source of inspiration, the artists he knew, but also the portraits made of him, the cultures he admired, the lovers he knew and the objects he surrounded himself with.

Treasures from Kings. Masterpieces from the Terra Sancta Museum

Until 26th February 2024; from Wednesday to Monday; weekdays; from 10 am to 6 pm; weekends; from 10 am to 9 pm; Fundação Calouste Gulbenkian; Av. de Berna 45 A (metro: Praça de Espanha, São Sebastião | buses: 716, 726, 746, 756). Tickets: 6 euros. More information at: gulbenkian.pt

Travelling from Jerusalem to Portugal for the first time, ‘O Tesouro dos Reis’ is an exhibition made up of donations made by European Catholic monarchs to various churches in this territory over the course of 500 years. With donations as its central theme, it includes European productions such as the church lamp sent to Jerusalem by the king of Portugal, D. João V, and the baldachin that housed a monstrance or crucifix, donated by Charles VII, king of Naples. The exhibition also offers a journey through the ancient history and spiritual symbolism of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, as well as the role played by the Custody of the Holy Land. Calouste Gulbenkian’s connection to the Holy Land is also evoked, with the presentation of a 15th century Armenian illuminated manuscript given by the collector to the Armenian Patriarchate of Jerusalem.
SAIL BACK TO THE TIME OF THE CARAVELS

Visit the Lisboa Story Centre and find out what life was like in 16th century Lisbon.
Fernando Pessoa’s Lisboa

Over the centuries, Lisboa has been the birthplace and home of several key figures in Portuguese culture. Fernando Pessoa, one of the most important names in Portuguese poetry and a central figure in Modernism, developed his lyrical and nationalist poetry around the themes of traditionality, its restlessness, loneliness and boredom, having rarely left the capital as an adult.

With regular publications and a presence at literary gatherings, Pessoa was respected as a poet and intellectual, but his literary genius became widely known after his death. As the city where he was born, lived and died, Lisboa was strongly marked by the poet’s life and works.

Fernando Pessoa was born in 1888 in Largo de São Carlos, in a typical 19th century building opposite the São Carlos National Theatre. In Chiado we can also find the place that most evokes the poet today. We mean the café A Brasileira, famous for the statue in his honour on the outside terrace. Here, the writer found a privileged place to meet with so many other iconic personalities of Portuguese literature, as well as to take refuge and be inspired to write.

There are many places in Lisboa described or remembered by the poet. Buildings that marked him, places where he lived or worked and that deserved a written reflection among his outbursts on paper. An example of this is the Elevador de Santa Justa (Santa Justa Lift), also known as the Elevador do Carmo (Carmo lift), one of the ex-libris of the seven hills, which Pessoa reflected on when it was built: ‘What is universal about the Elevador de Santa Justa is ‘mechanics’ facilitating the world’, he wrote.

This space was followed by several others. Restaurante Pessoa, in Rua dos Douradores, where the poet regularly had lunch; Martinho da Arcada, in Terreiro do Paço, Lisboa’s oldest café, inaugurated by the Marquis of Pombal and which had one of its small dark grey marble tables occupied by the intellectual for several years. The Livraria Inglêsa, now the Livraria Britânica, was also a place he visited regularly, a possible well of peace in the bustling Rua do Arsenal, where he looked for the latest publications.

Many other streets were travelled and quoted by the literary genius over and over again. Rua da Prata, where one of the companies he worked for was based and where he used the typewriter to produce much of the work of the heteronymous Álvaro de Campos; Rua da Assunção, where Fernando Pessoa and his only known love, Ofélia Queirós, first crossed paths. The eternal romantic story between the two began with glances and jokes that evolved into an exchange of notes and later countless love letters. Pessoa lived for intense but short 47 years, the last few of them at number 16 Rua Coelho da Rocha, in Campo de Ourique, today the Casa Fernando Pessoa. Already very ill, he was admitted to St Louis Hospital in Bairro Alto, part of the Societé Française de Bienfaisance, where he died, but not before writing down on a piece of paper the phrase: ‘I know not what tomorrow will bring’.

Every corner of Lisboa is full of stories about Pessoa and other poets and artists. Find out for yourself.
EXHIBITIONS

Treasures in the Palm of the Hand

Until 3rd March 2024; from Tuesday to Sunday; from 10 am to 6 pm; Museu do Oriente, Av. Brasília, Doca de Alcântara (buses: 712, 713, 714, 727, 742, 751, 756, 728, 732, 760, 720, 738 | trams: 15E, 18E | train: Cascais, Alcântara-Mar station). Free entry. More information at: foriente.pt

Through 240 pieces from the 18th and 19th centuries, 'Tesouros na Palma da Mão' reveals a collection of snuff bottles, exquisite objects of multiple shapes, colours and decorations, the result of the mastery of Chinese artisans from the Qing dynasty. These jars were created to store ground tobacco or to smell the snuff and make it easier to consume. In Chinese society, snuff bottles were seen as utilitarian objects and as a sign of sophistication and status. They were made from a variety of materials, from carved minerals, ceramics, blown glass, worked ivory or lacquer, making them true works of art. The exhibition is divided into seven sections, which present the variety of materials and ways of making snuff bottles, their use, history and evolution.

Crossing a bridge on fire

Until 10th March 2024; from Tuesday to Sunday; from 10 am to 7 pm; last entry at 6:30 pm; MAC/CCB, Praça do Império (buses: 28, 714, 727, 729, 751 | tram: 15 | train: Cascais line; station: Belém). Tickets: 5 euros, general. More information at: ccb.pt

The Belgium artist Berlinde de Bruyckere, who has marked her artistic path with the development of important work in the fields of sculpture and drawing, is exhibiting for the first time in a museum in Portugal a showing specifically designed for the opening of the Contemporary Art Museum of the Centro Cultural de Belém. It is a work contemplating two performances by Romeu Runa and focusing on the figure of the angel as an intermediary creature to address contemporary issues regarding gender, metamorphosis and meditation.
‘Plug-in’ is Joana Vasconcelos’ most recent exhibition, that occupies the MAAT Central and MAAT Gallery buildings and gathers unknown works, iconic pieces and works from the Fundação EDP Art Collection. At MAAT Gallery it is possible to find the unseen ‘Drag Race’ (2023), ‘War Games’ (2011), two pieces that were present at the Guggenheim in Bilbao and that are shown in Lisboa for the first time: ‘I’ll Be Your Mirror’ (2019) and the gigantic ‘anel Solitário’ (‘Solitaire’) (2018), that will be installed outside the museum, as well as the tentacular textile sculpture ‘Valkyrie Octopus’ created in 2015 for the MGM Macau and exhibited for the first time in Europe, suspended in the Galeria Oval (Oval Gallery) of the MAAT. In the space MAAT Central will be the work ‘Árvore da Vida’ (‘Tree of Life’) (2023), that was created in the context of the Saison France Portugal and was now adapted to the Generator Room of the Tejo Power Station.

‘Bordalo em Trânsito’ is an invitation to take a journey through Rafael Bordalo Pinheiro’s artistic work. In an exhibition divided in three sections, it is possible to make a plural interpretation of the artist’s talent and creativity in the light of the present, keeping in mind that a critical spirit and humour can be the perfect allies for the construction of an active, participated and constructive citizenship. In ‘Bordalo ao espelho’ (‘Bordalo in the mirror’), the self-portrait is the protagonist. The artist presents himself, is transfigured and defies the sense of observation. ‘Zé Povinho Identidade e Política’ (‘Zé Povinho Identity and Politics’) presents the artist’s greatest creation: Zé Povinho, the symbolic representation of the Portuguese people. Finally, ‘Bordalo à Mesa’ (‘Bordalo at the Table’) presents a theme that was very dear to the artist: gastronomy. In this section there are graphic records and ceramics pieces of royal opulence.

Pires Vieira

Until 17th March 2024; from Tuesday to Friday and Sundays; from 10 am to 6 pm; Saturdays; from 10 am to 7 pm; Museu do Neo-Realismo; Rua Alves Redol, Vila Franca de Xira (train: Azambuja line; Vila Franca de Xira station). Free entry. More information at: museudoneorealismo.pt

Since 1969, the artist Pires Vieira has been developing a process of research and retrospective, starting from an abstract register to question the values of two-dimensionality and the ‘objectuality’ of painting. In a profound exercise in which he questions the contemporary possibilities of pictorial practice, he crosses verbal language with painting and questions its visuality on the level of ‘objectuality’ transformed by words. It is on this level of analysis between word and image that Pires Vieira takes the audience closer to the dynamics of critical, political and social awareness, partly associated with the neo-realist cultural heritage.
Other recent examples presents a set of conceptual works on the psychological resonances of the foundation of meaning through the word, also addressing issues of language and multilingualism in themes of grief, melancholy and transience. Alejandro Cesarco, a Uruguayan artist and curator of exhibitions such as the São Paulo Biennial (2018) and ARCO (Madrid, 2020), presents, among other works, Index (An Educator), a new work made up of 18 pieces in which names, keywords and concepts are compiled alphabetically. This is his most extensive work in an ongoing series of indexes created by the artist and is an evolutionary guide to his interests, readings and activities, developing like a self-portrait that evolves over time.
